So Many Good Things Inside . . .

The 1967 Tom Tom

Inside the walls of Central exists a world: vibrant with a spirit of youthfulness, linked with the dignity of the educators. Behind these doors, lasting friendships are begun, and disappointments are experienced. We share victories and defeats alike; we search and we discover; our minds are opened. Every moment of every day combines with every other to shape our characters and our destinies. We make decisions that will chart our paths into a world which demands excellence.

So many good things inside . . . Memory-making events happen to us every day, but only a small number stand out in our minds . . . many good things which we do not want to forget, but in the scurry of our hectic lives are lost. Perhaps this yearbook will enable each of us to recall some of these good things and implant them in our hearts forever. . . .

Superintendent Heads Avid Educators

Under the leadership of Dr. Charles C. Mason, Superintendent of Schools, Tulsa's School Board continued to coordinate our school system. The Board was comprised of seven people, elected by the voters for three year terms. In general, the Board of Education pursued two phases of activities. They adopted rules covering general organization policies, procedures, and major plans. They also acted directly in general matters not covered by established rules. The Board held meetings at 3027 S. New Haven the first Monday and the third Wednesday of every month. Special meetings were called when necessary.

School Board Effects Successful Year

"Our goal is to provide Tulsa with the best educational program that the tax bracket permits," commented Mrs. Virgil O. Wood, Board member. The efforts of Mrs. Wood and her fellow members are evidenced by the high standards of instruction for all pupils enrolled in Tulsa's school system. The realization of the new Vocational—Technical Center was a significant achievement. The center was designed to give students a new environment for learning, an aspect often overlooked. It gave them specialized training in a particular vocational field that would help them in the business world or in further schooling.

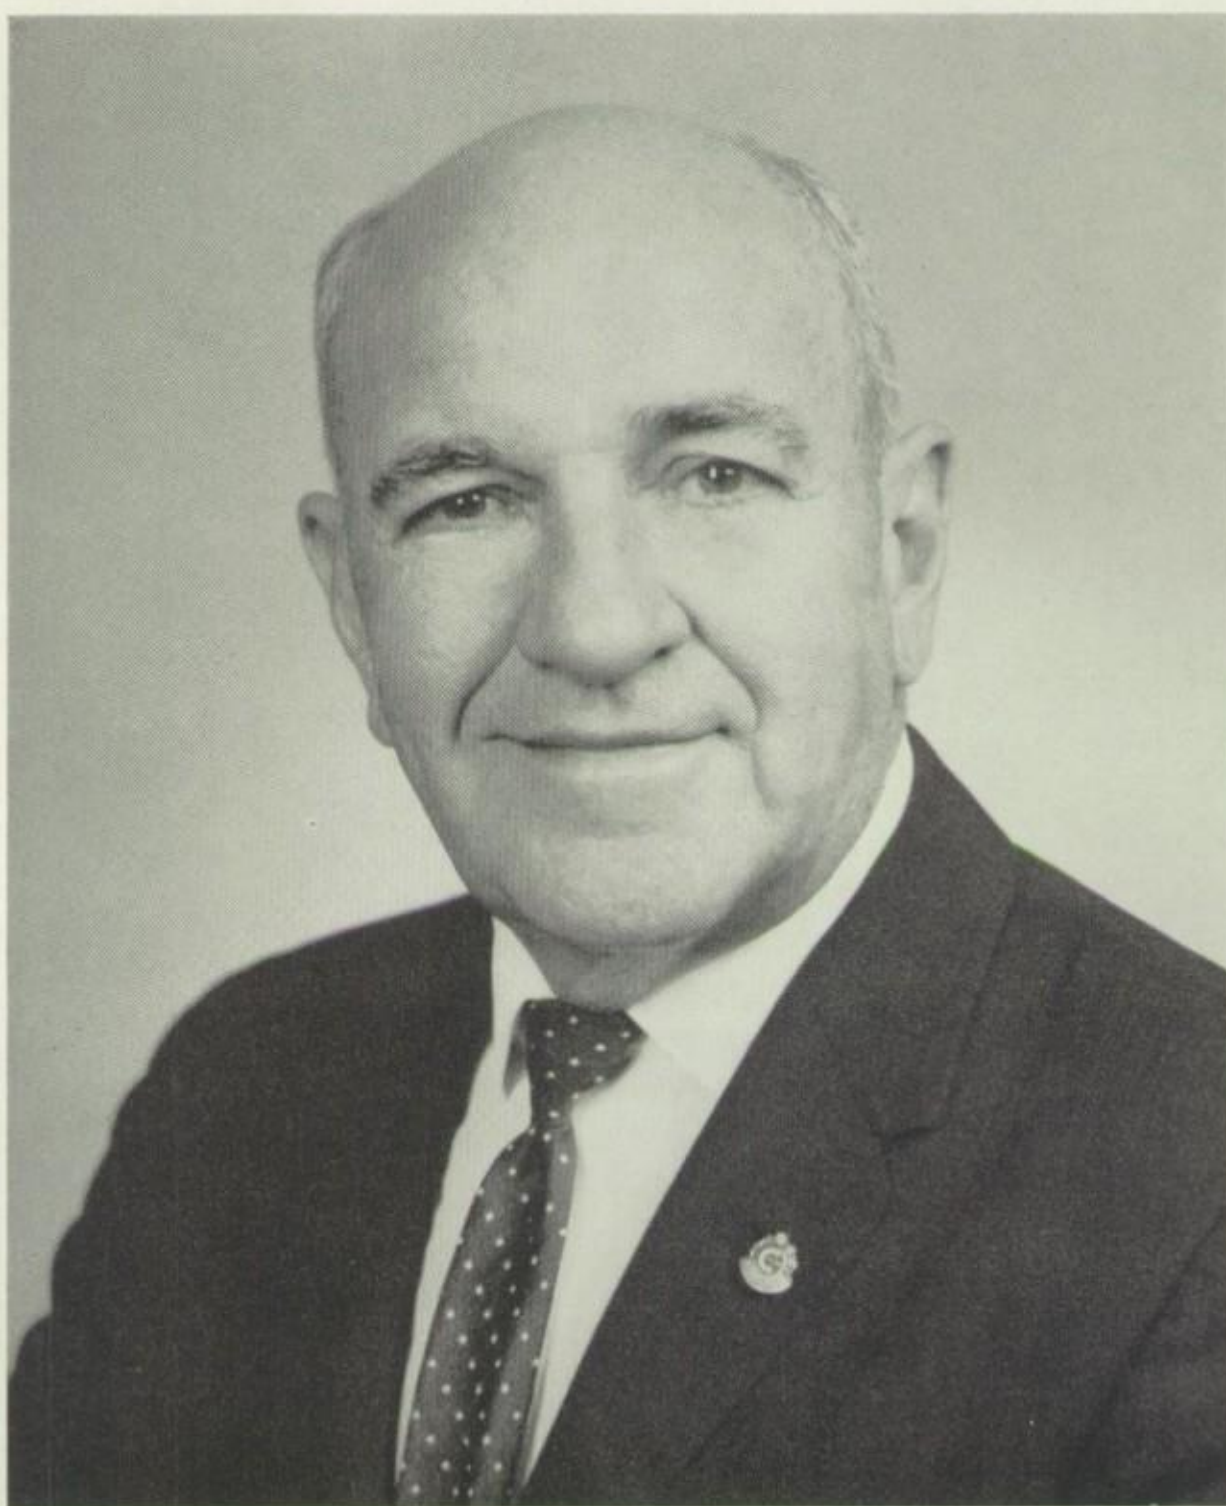

Giving their attention to Mrs. Wood's illustrations of Tulsa's educational system are Pat Rush and Mark Lobo.

Many moments of Mr. McCafferty's day are spent in his office and counseling Central students and faculty members.

Mr. McCafferty Fosters School Spirit

2733 students hailed the return of Mr. Carl L. McCafferty, our illustrious principal, to the spirited halls of Central High School. Embarking upon his fourth year at Central, Mr. McCafferty welcomed twenty-eight new teachers to the faculty.

The office of principal in a large high school brings many responsibilities. Mr. McCafferty presided over the weekly student general assemblies, faculty gatherings, and the Board of Directors. He spent a great deal of time furthering student-teacher relationships and promoting the Parent Teacher Association. One of Mr. McCafferty's favorite pastimes was acting as Big Chief for the Central Braves. He led the school in support of our team at the many athletic events.

During the past few years Mr. McCafferty has received many honors and has served on many civic committees. In 1963 he was listed in Who's Who in the South and Southwest. He has served as director of local and state units of the Oklahoma Education Association and in many offices of the International Civitan Club.

Mr. McCafferty is an avid hunter of quail and pheasant along with being an active fisherman. From June 12 to June 22, he took time out from his job and made his annual fishing trip. This was Mr. McCafferty's twelfth summer to visit Canada, where he stayed at Black Bear Camp. Accompanying him was Mr. A. M. Steadly, whom many seniors will remember because he fitted them for their senior rings. On the weekends throughout the year, Mr. McCafferty worked on enlarging his cabin at Fort Gibson where he and Mrs. McCafferty plan to make their home after he retires.

Hearty greetings come from Waditas, Chief of the Braves.

Guidance Staff Offers Help to Students

Counseling staff members devoted their efforts toward helping students get the most out of their days at Central. They offered individual counseling, maintained a strong testing program, and supplied college bound students with scholarship and entrance requirement information. Individual cumulative records and parent-teachers conferences were included in their services throughout the year.

One of the major problems the counselors faced was motivating discouraged students to stay in school. Helping students find jobs after graduation and giving vocational advice were also some of their duties.

Miss Joyce Saunders became an assistant principal and Mrs. Beulah Ferguson joined the staff as a junior counselor this year.

Faculty Spends Profitable Vacation

Throughout the school year Central teachers encouraged and helped the students to attain maximum all-around development. The educators had the job of teaching classes, holding conferences with students, and grading papers. Acting as chaperones for activities and as sponsors for organizations, the instructors took part in another phase of school life.

Many faculty members furthered their education during the summer. Mrs. Dolores Nesbit participated in a program entitled "Physical Education for Adolescents in Today's Changing Society" at the University of Wisconsin. Modern Drama was the subject of Miss Patsy Moberly's studies at Ohio State University. Mr. Harry Bannister went to Kansas State University where he learned about Grassland Ecology. Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana was the home of Cora E. MacDonald for six weeks this summer. The N.D.E.A. Institute in advanced speech provided her with the opportunity to further her studies in debate, discussion, and persuasion.

Many teachers took advantage of the summer to travel and relax. Mr. Jerrold Lawless, director of the Young Tulsans, journeyed with the group to Holland for an international music contest. Acting as a counselor at a boys' camp in Mishawaka, Minnesota gave Mr. Ernest McHugh a chance to get away from civilization. He spent eight weeks teaching the boys how to swim, fish, and take canoe trips. Miss Margery Pike took a trip to Europe where she visited many historical sites. After an educational and enjoyable summer, the teachers returned to their classes in September eager to start a new year.

Cultural Interest Gained in Fine Arts

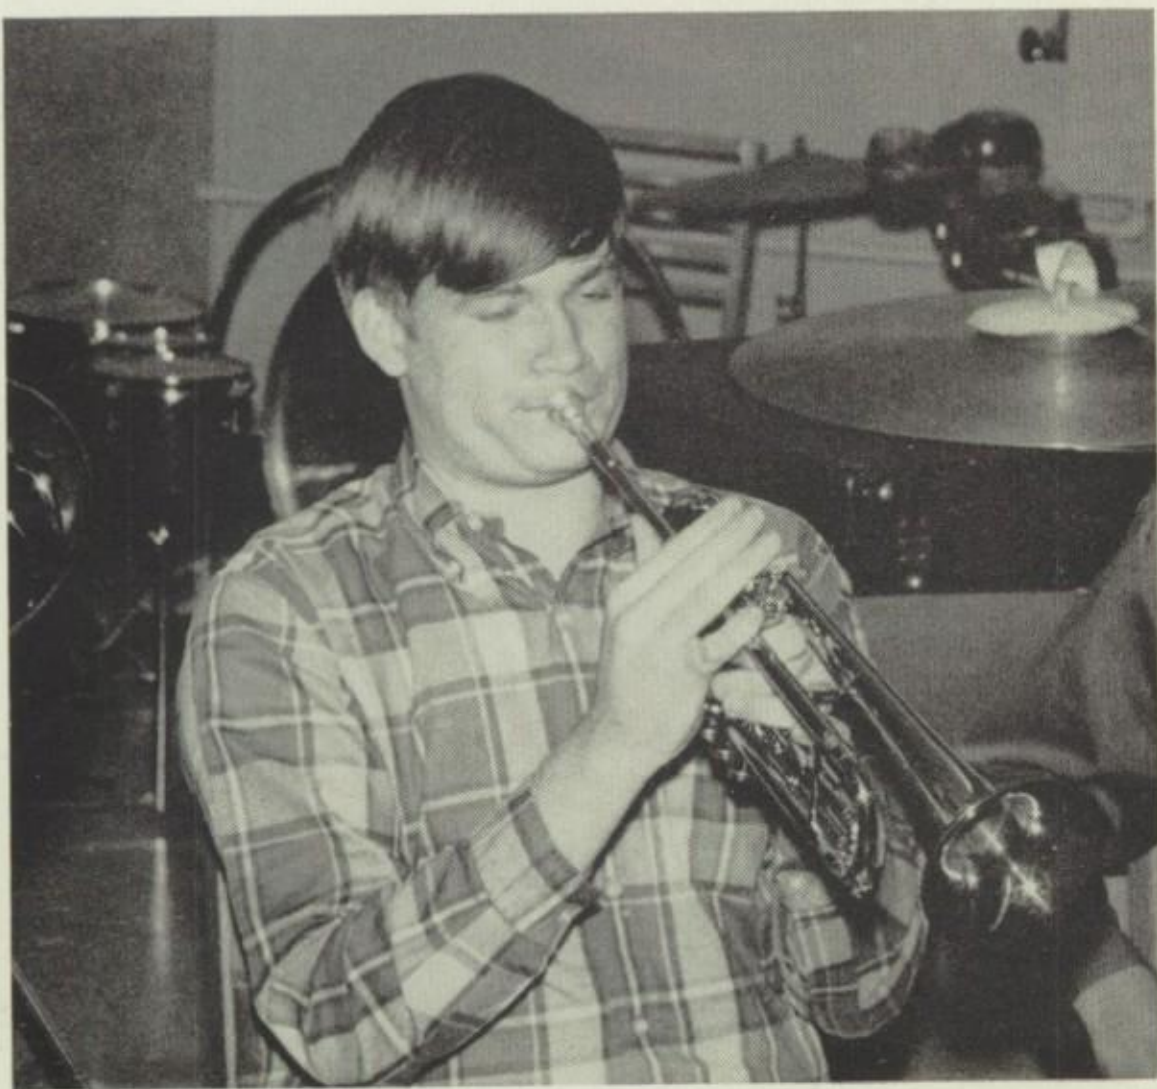

As a result of persistent practice and painstaking effort by students, the Art and Music Departments had a very gratifying year to look back on.

Red Cross received the benefit from the main project of the Art Department this year. Students did paintings which were sent to the Veterans' Hospital in Muskogee. Many long hours were spent on various projects in preparation for the Gilcrease exhibit and the annual display of student art work in the halls.

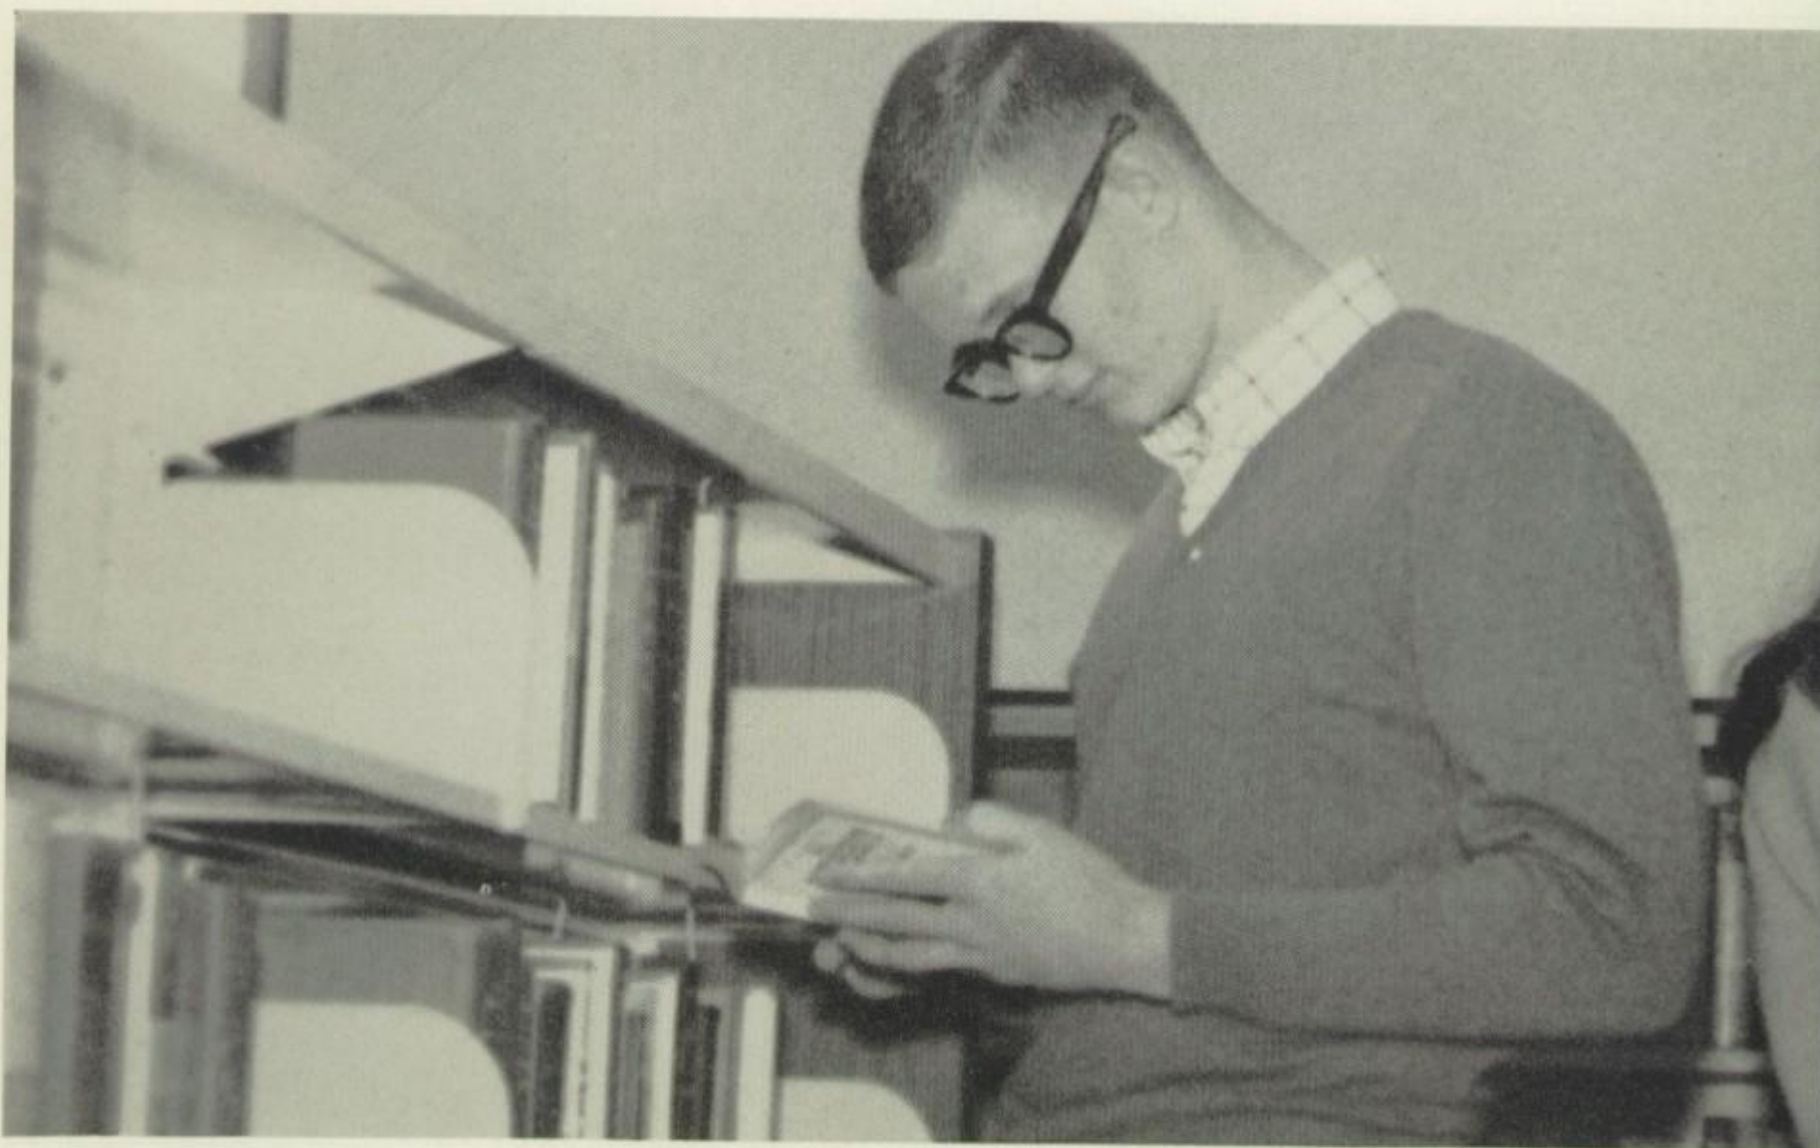

Performing in assemblies, assisting at plays, and adding enthusiasm to sports events were the functions of the Music Department. Their entertainment added greatly to these numerous school activities.

& Communication

With the arrival of nine new English teachers to Central this year, there came many new and different ideas as well as faces. Miss Anne Crotchett took over the position of department head.

Contributions from NDEA made possible many new dictionaries, vocabulary, and grammar books. Projectors, slides and transparency machines kept Central in pace with the newest and most modern teaching methods available.

An Abundance of Knowledge Meets the Meeting the challenges found in the study of mathematics and science was a profitable experience for Central students. Instructors endeavored to help students understand the complexities of the courses, while giving them a means to use what they have learned in their everyday life.

The curriculum included a wide variety of subjects, ranging from the most basic to the advanced. The Mathematics Department, headed by Mr. Jack Skelton, offered basic mathematics, algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry. The most advanced course was Math Analysis, open to all qualified seniors.

The life processes and the fundamentals of the natural world were the objects of much scientific study. Biology, physics, chemistry, earth science, and physiology-psychology courses were open to students. Mr. Felix Vestal was department chairman.

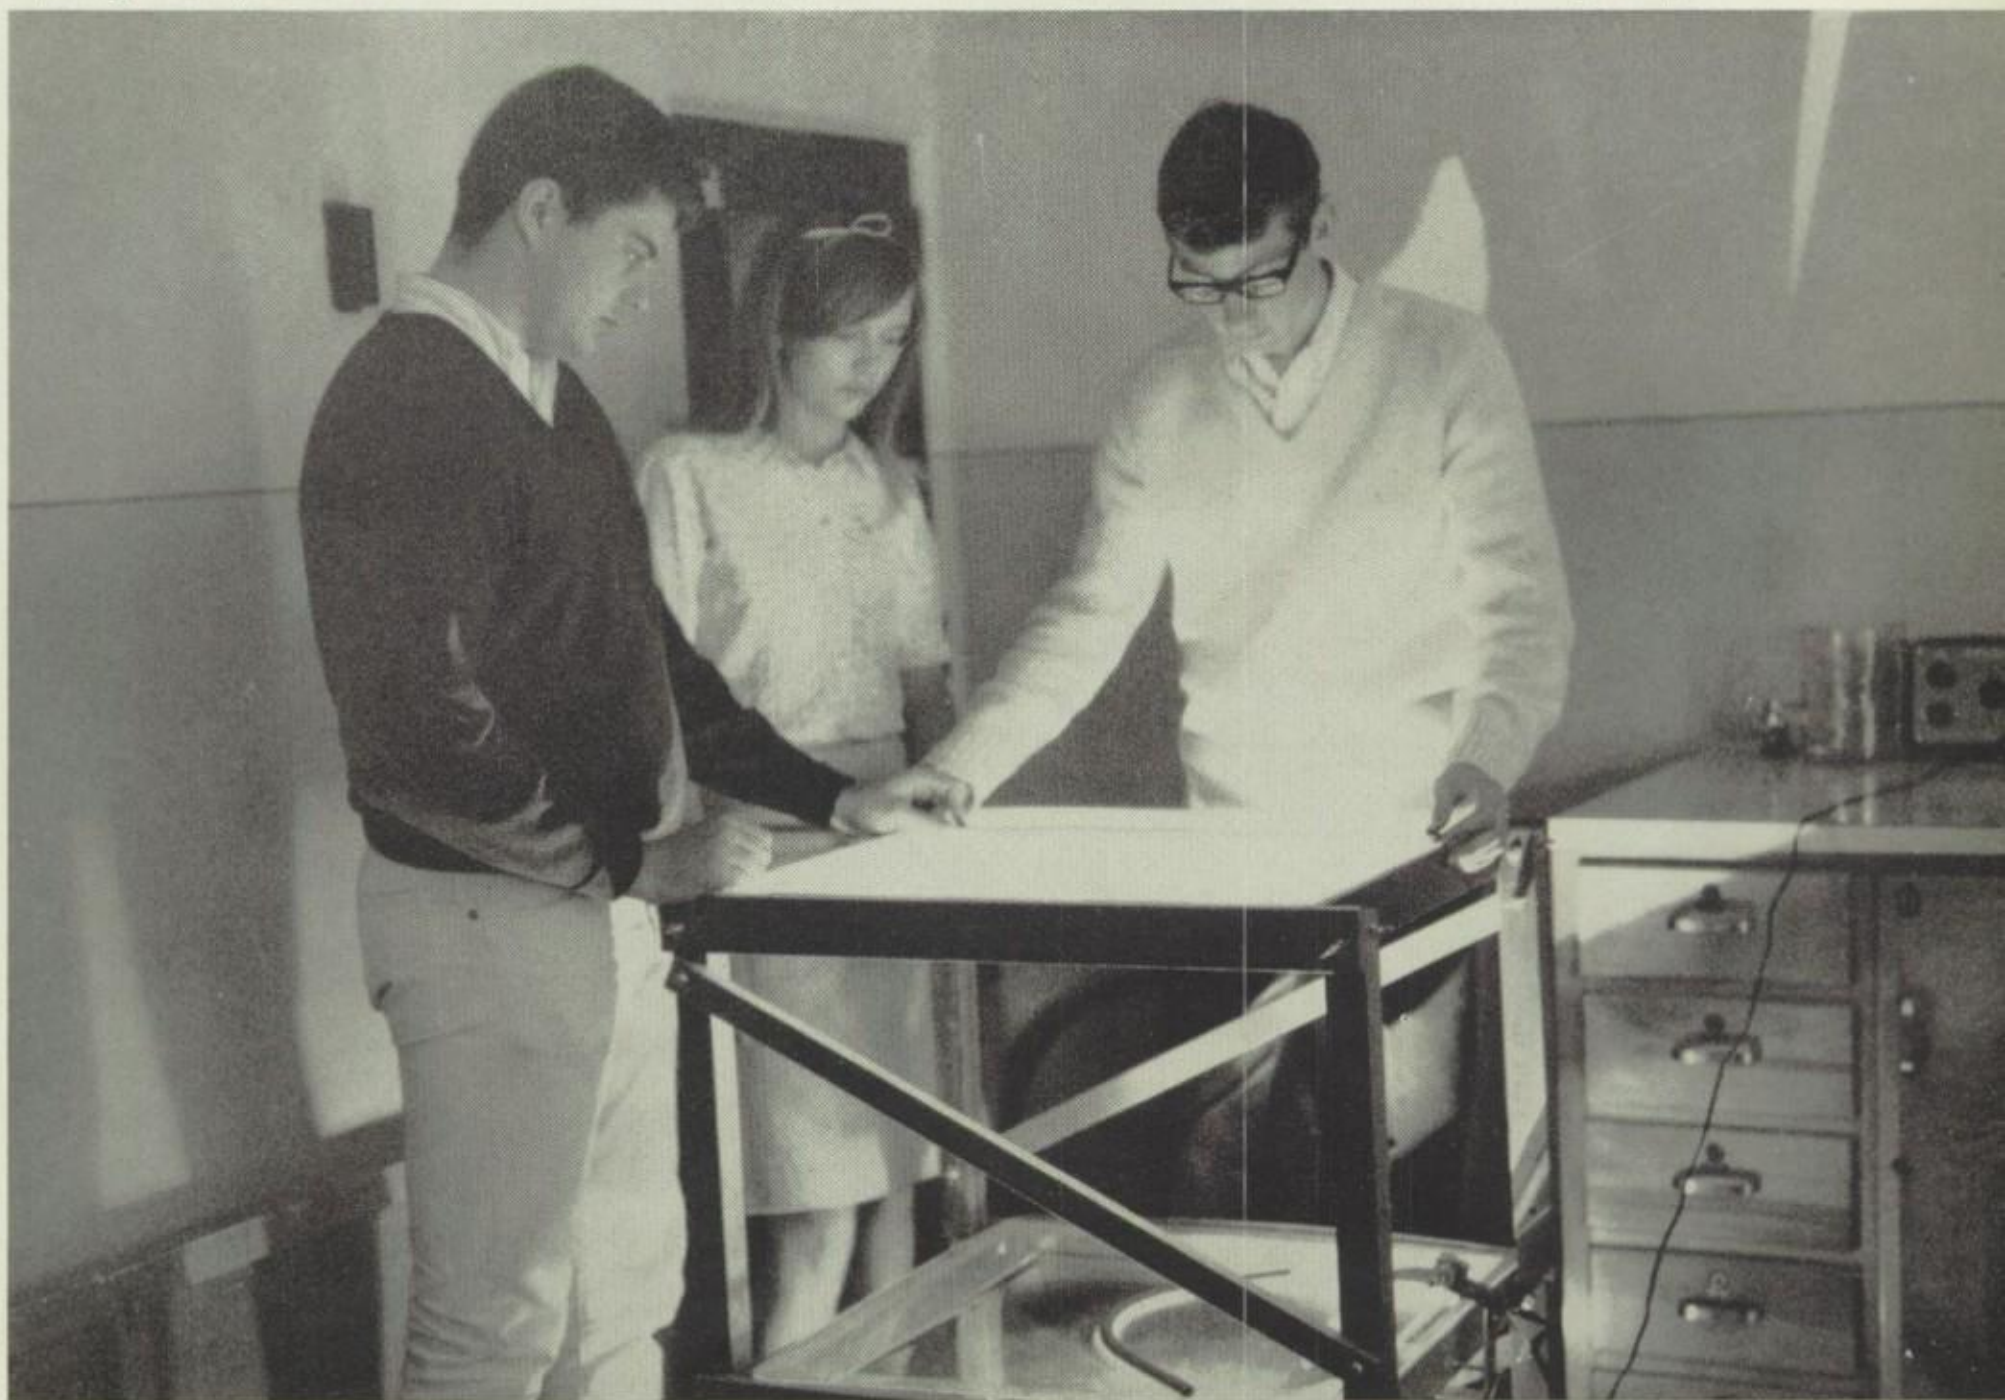

Advanced physical science and advanced biology students concentrated on deep studies in their fields. Individual achievement was encouraged, and the instructor assumed the role of advisor and counselor.

Language Study Promotes Understanding

As Nancy Brooks does her Spanish flamenco dance, Barbara Pleasant and Warren Williams watch with fascination.

Central's audio-lingual facilities were the center of our foreign language program this year. One hour per week French and Spanish students marched down the hall to the laboratory where they practiced their conversational skills. Tapes were played over the headset and the students responded by repeating into their desk microphones.

Part of the ALM program included a familiarization of the culture of the people who speak the language being studied. Geography and customs of the countries were an integral part of the study course. Translation of Roman Mythology and other classics by Roman authors were the subject matter of the Latin classes.

Two new teachers, Mrs. Peggy Goodal and Mrs. Patricia Summers, along with new French and Spanish books, were presented to the Department. These helped to stimulate interest in cultural study.

After unpacking the equipment, Mr. James Mitchell finds time to take inventory of the recent arrivals.

History Summarizes World Adventures

This year the History Department acquired a supplement of new equipment. This equipment, including overhead projectors, tape recorders, and sound and filmstrip projectors, was made available by funds from the National Defense Education Act. These supplies were given to assist the teachers and make material more interesting for the students during class.

The History Department provided several courses of study. Many students took the required classes of Oklahoma and United States History, while others elected to continue in World, Ancient and Medieval, or Modern History. Government and Economics was also offered.

Mr. James Mitchell, department chairman, stated that the history courses have attempted to provide the students with an awareness of man intellectually, as well as politically, aesthetically, economically, religiously, and socially. The aim was to make the student more conscious of the world around him, and to develop his sensibility, value and attitude.

Students Prepare for Independence

"Teaching young people the art of living satisfactorily in the family, the community, and the nation is the function of the home economics department. We place great emphasis on the wise use of money, time, energy, and all materials," commented Mrs. Larettia Sager, department chairman.

In sewing classes girls learned how to plan and construct an attractive wardrobe. They had instruction in color and art related to design and textile study. The highlight of the year was the style show given in assembly.

Students enrolled in foods classes were taught to prepare nourishing and delicious meals. They learned how to set attractive tables and be good hostesses for various occasions.

Home nursing courses offered instruction in mother and baby care. The care of the sick and injured in the home and basic first aid were also included. The home living classes were designed to help students deal with problems concerning their relationships in the family group and the nation. Five home oriented subjects were available.

Improving skills at various machines involves many hours of individual concentration for these business students.

Business Students Acquire Proficiency

Sounds of busy typewriters and adding machines filled the Business Education classrooms. Of the eight courses offered, typewriting was the favorite. Students also became proficient in note-hand, shorthand, bookkeeping, and business law. The wider use of tape recorders was made possible by the installation of new consoles in the shorthand and transcription rooms.

Mrs. Virginia Marks, department chairman, commented, "The aim of Business Education is to provide terminal education for people who are planning to work after graduation or a good foundation for those who are going to major in business when they reach college level."

I. E. Trains Students for Vocations

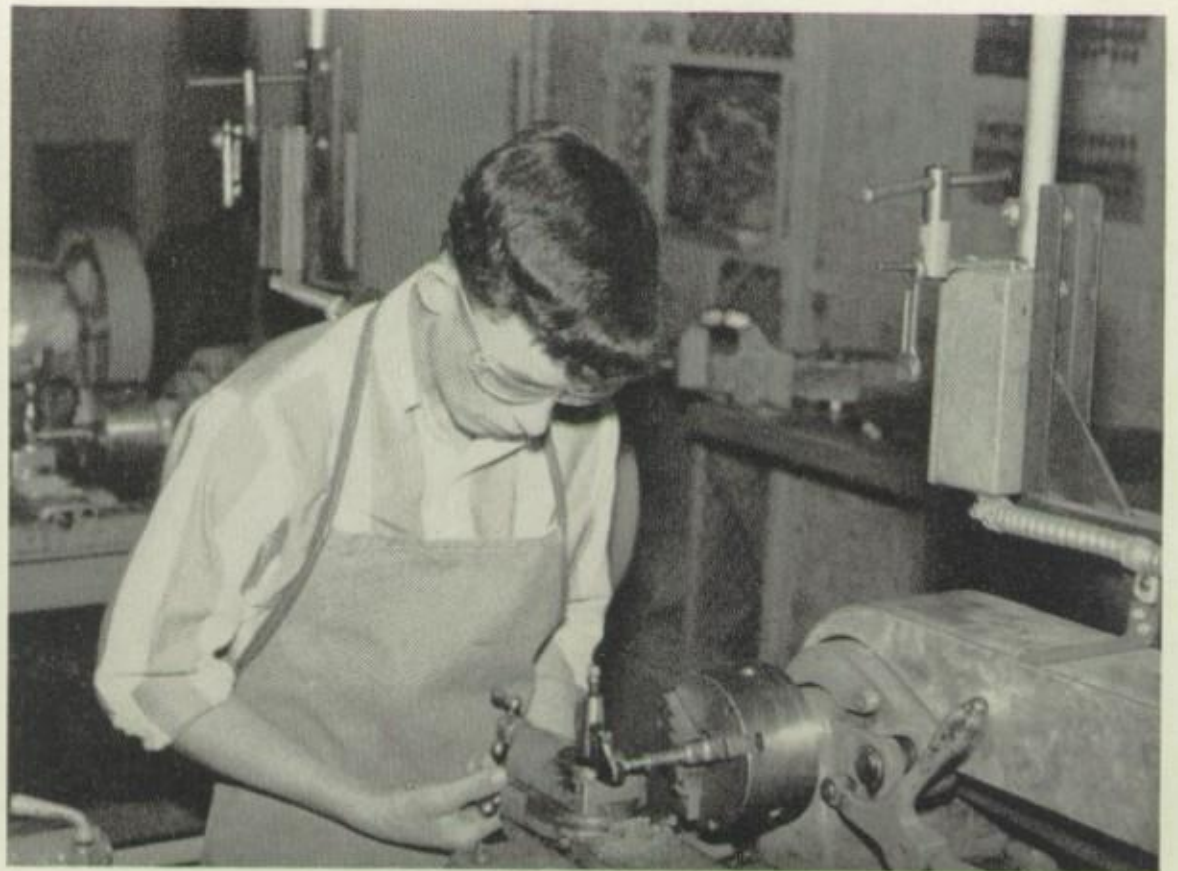

Operating the Linotype machine is one of the many useful skills that Jim Isom has mastered in Printing.

New equipment and larger classes spelled the growing interest in Industrial Education. The department, headed by Mr. Wayne Penner, offered twenty-one courses, taught by thirteen instructors this year.

The Automobile Mechanics class was enlarged to twice the size of last year's, and a new and better equipped classroom was provided for Distributive Education. Also, a room was remodelled for the new course at I.E., Cooperative Education.

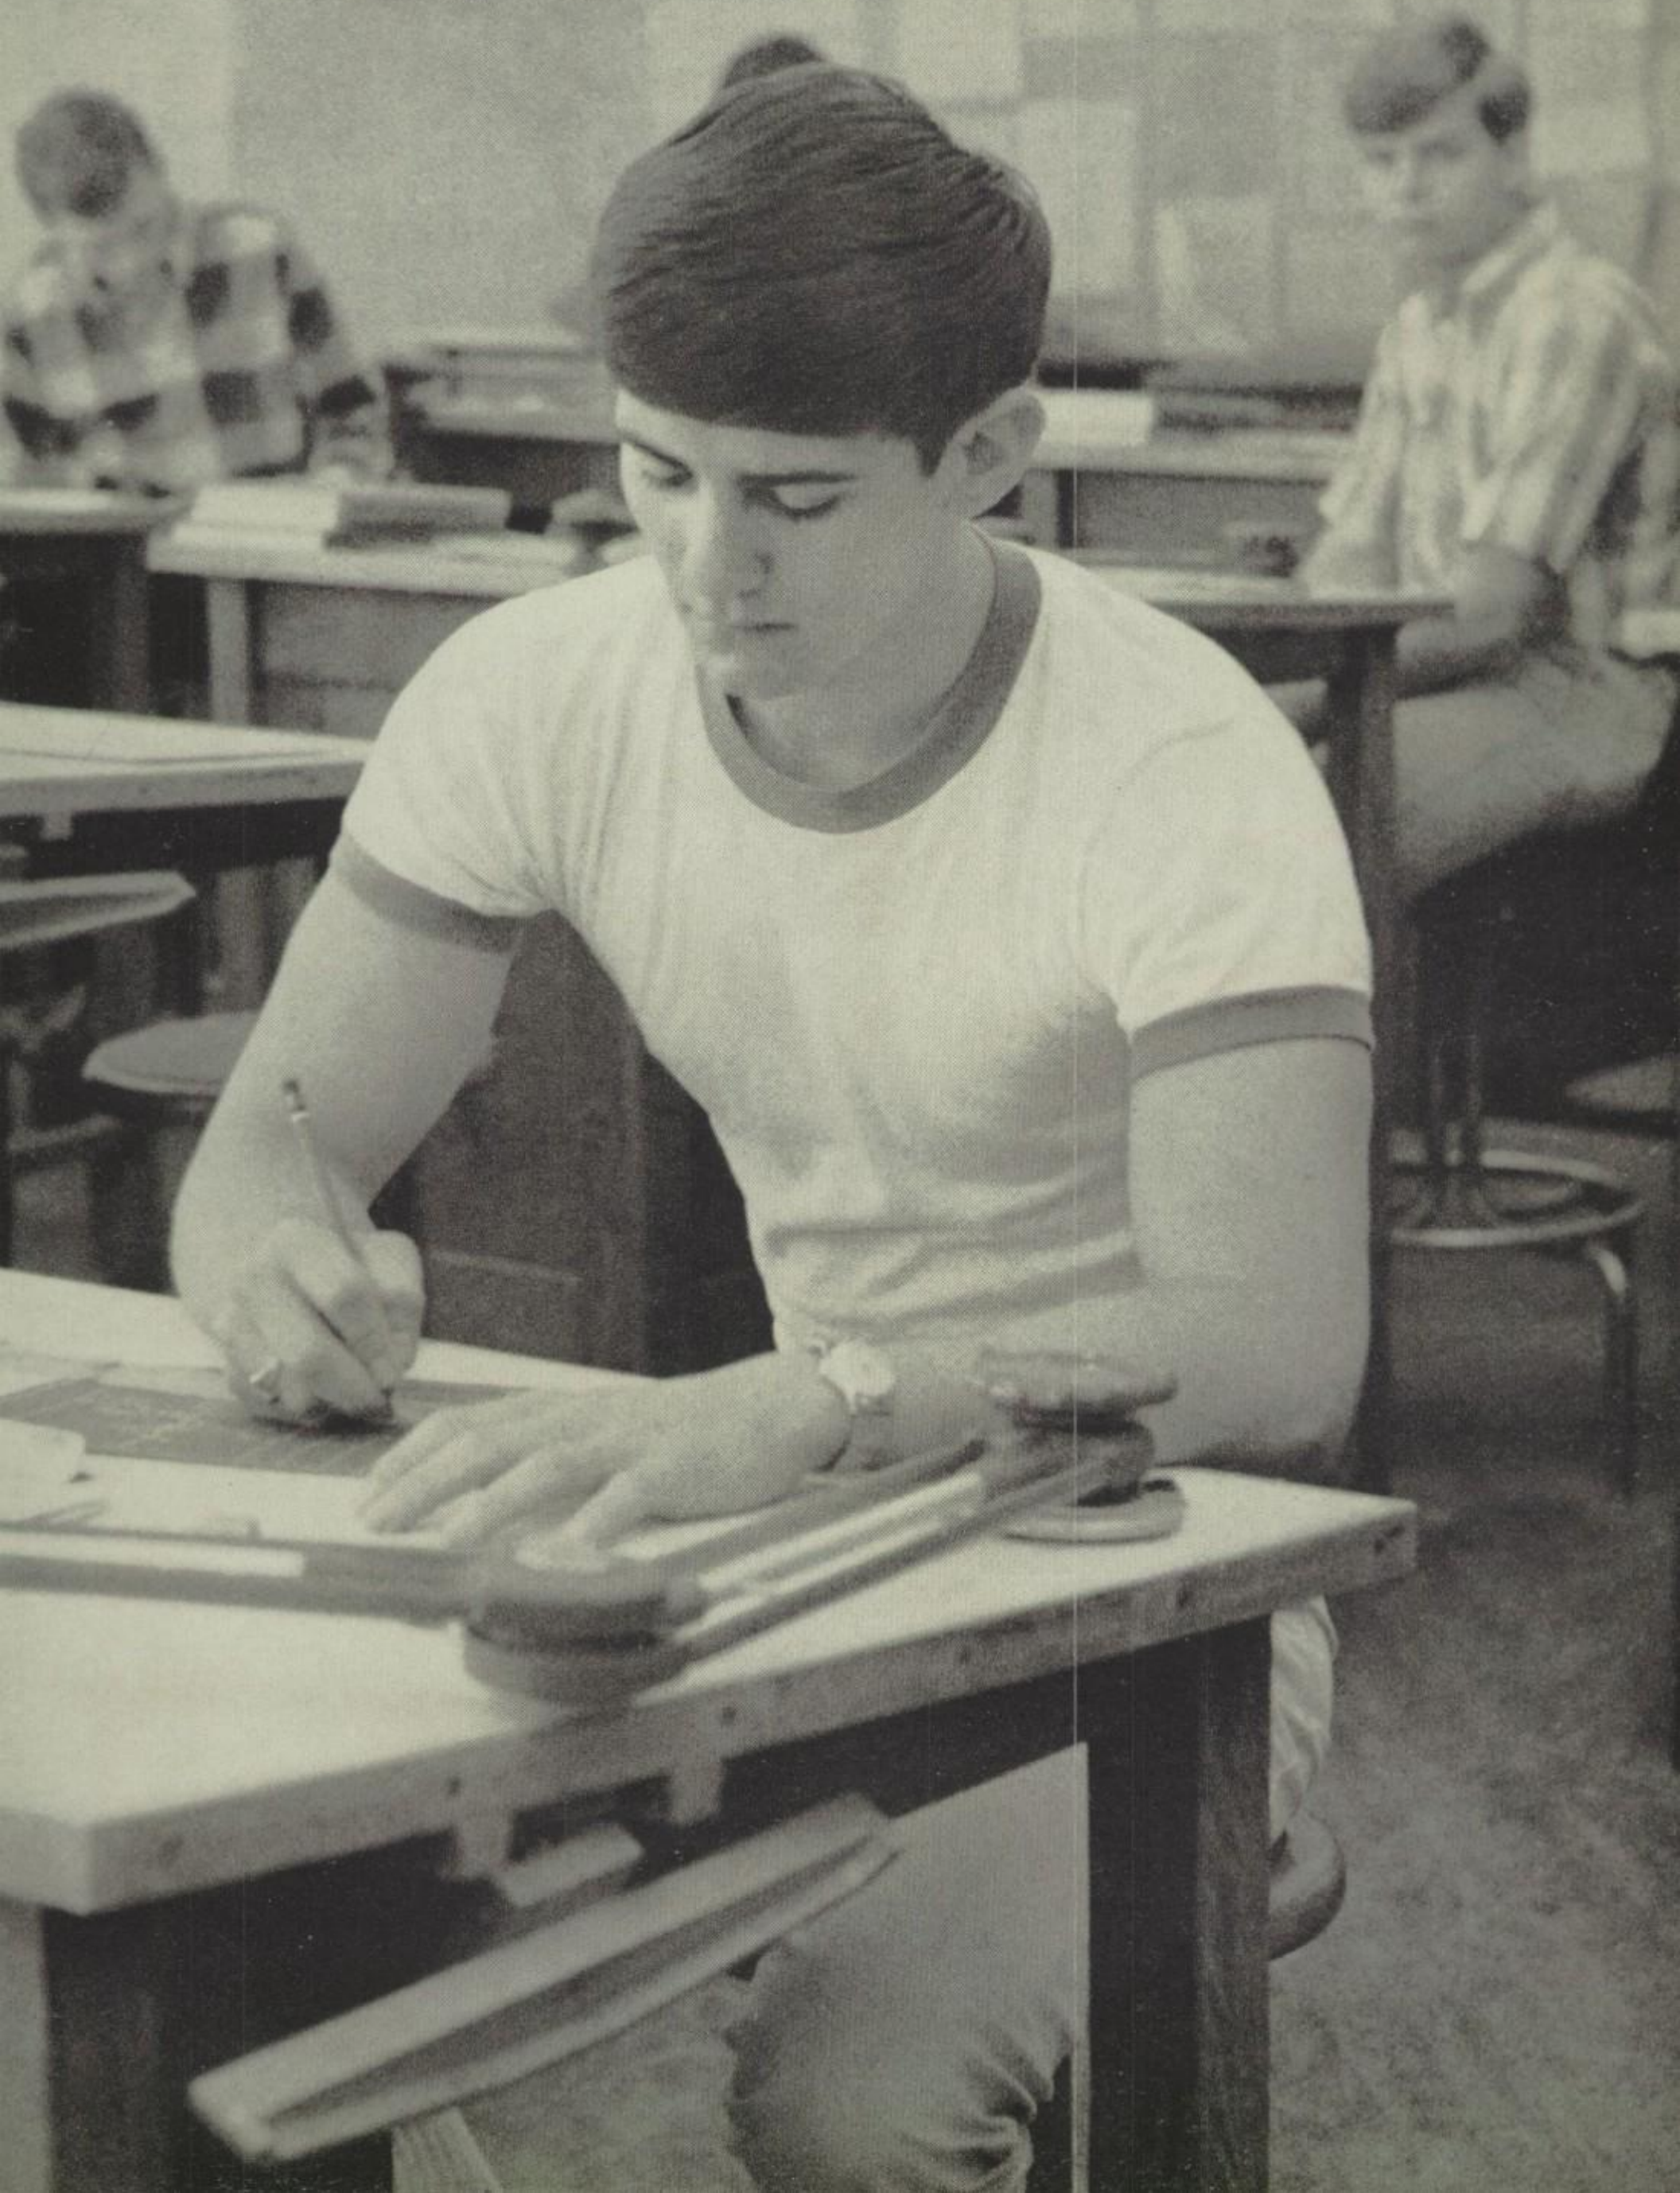

Students gained valuable skills by taking drafting, woodwork, printing, electricity, auto mechanics, and machine shop. Some of these courses offered advanced classes in vocational technical training.

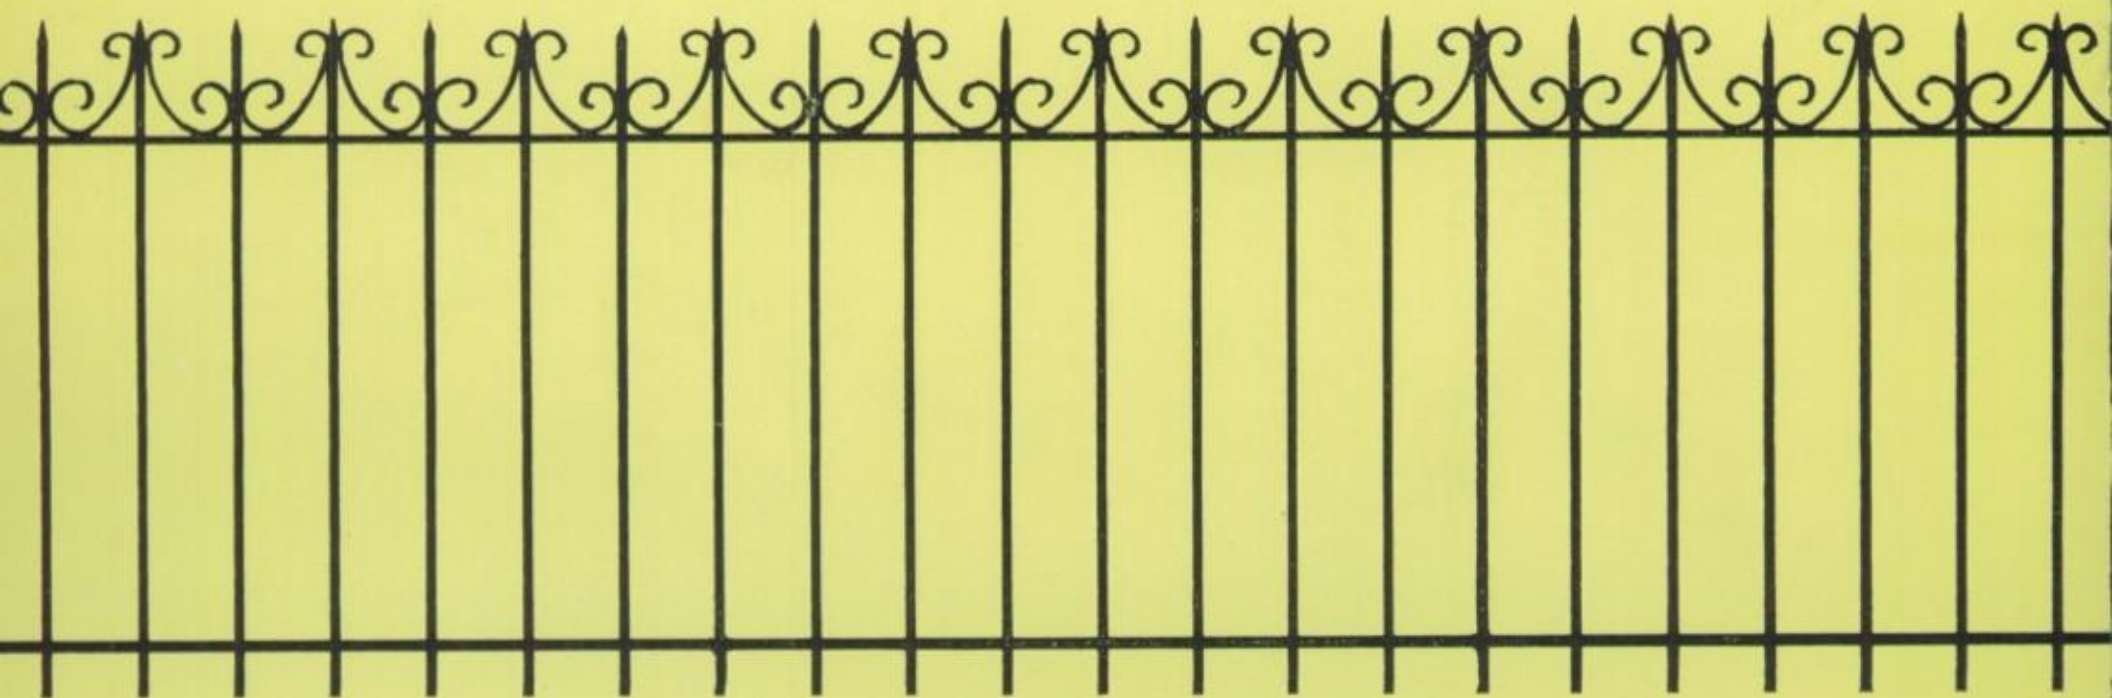

Mr. Penner stated, "The goal of Industrial Education is to prepare young people for the world of work, and to instill an understanding of industrial procedure."

Young Braves Struggle to Dismal Season

Sprinting down the sideline, Jack Chambers races for a 90 yard touchdown jaunt in our homecoming game win.

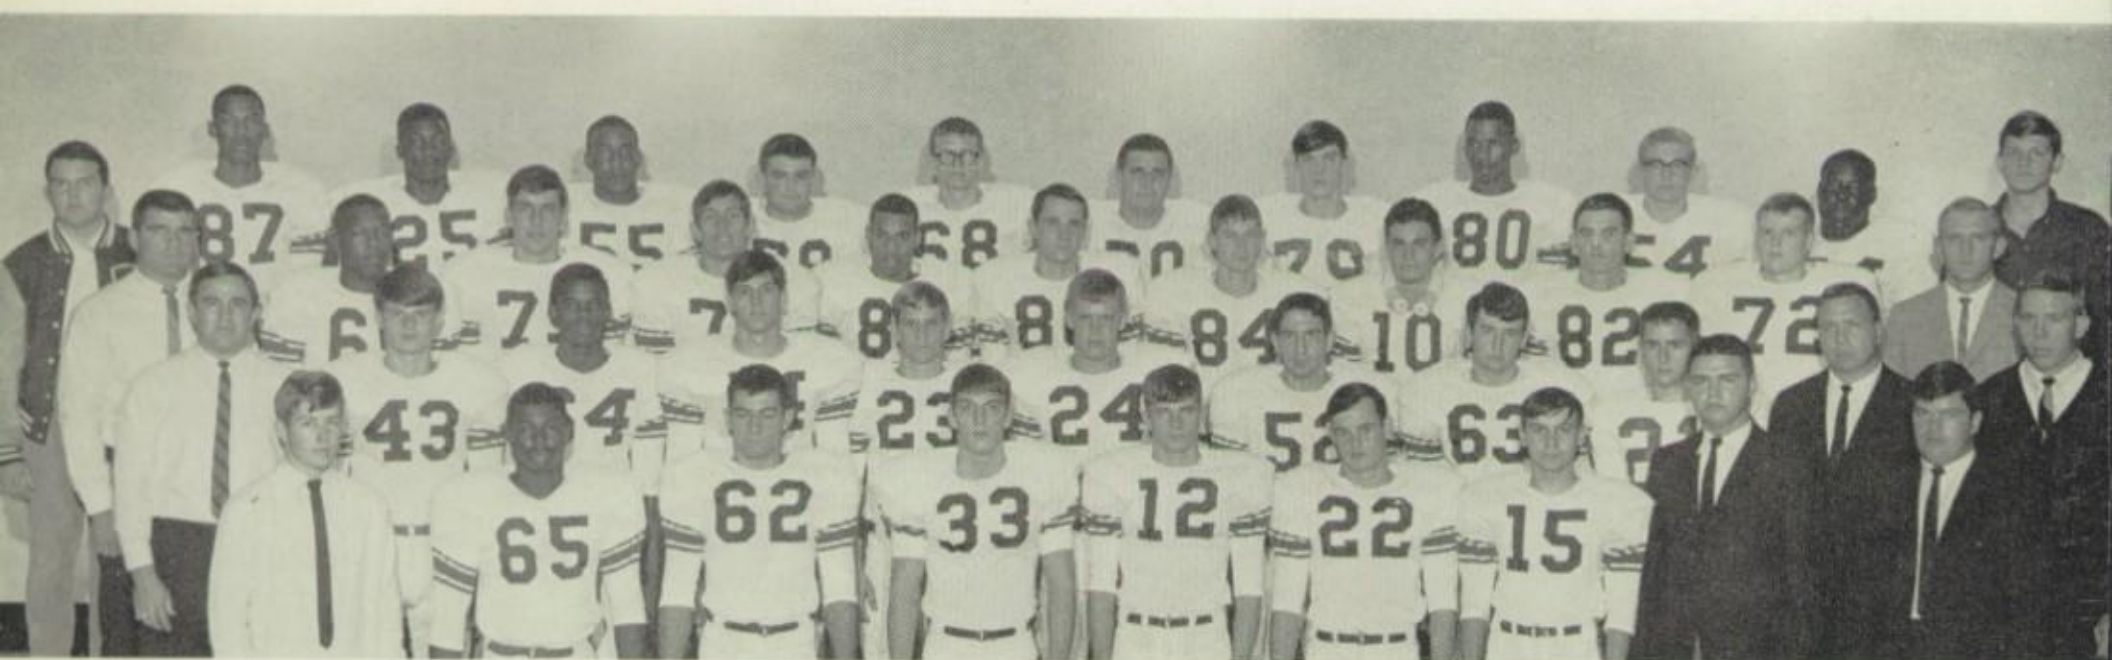

Rebuilding the team was Coach Gwinn's ambition for the 1966 football season. With only eight returning lettermen the Young Braves struggled to a 1-9 season. Although the record doesn't indicate it, there were some bright spots and plenty of enthusiasm for the Braves. One of these was the 26-14 drubbing of Webster in a wind-blown homecoming game.

Bartlesville rolled over the winless Braves 42-0. Central dominated the first half with a super defense which allowed the Wildcats to run only 15 offensive plays to the Braves' 48. But the Braves fell apart and allowed the Wildcats to score 35 points in the last half.

The traditional Rogers-Central game was a battle of defense. The Ropers being number one in the state at that time, were favored to romp over the Braves. But as the game progressed the fighting Braves held the bigger Ropers to 14 points, and surprised everyone with a vicious defense, led by Art Ruby and Ken Ruse.

Sophomores Stop Short in Conference

Central players on the sidelines anticipate the catch of end Willie Holt in an exciting Central-Rogers game.

Led by Coach John Hogan and Bob Bruno, the B-Braves went to a 3-5 season. The young Braves set things on fire with three straight victories before suffering their first loss to Edison 6-0. But as the season progressed the B-Braves ran headlong into trouble.

Losses to Bartlesville and Rogers seem to hurt the B-Braves most. Both games were plagued with Central penalties, fumbles and interceptions.

The B-Braves failed to win a conference game this year. All victories were over non-conference foes.

Youthful Cagers Fall to 8-14 Record

Art Ruby has trouble finding the handle on the ball as Ponca City opponents prepare to converge on him.

Central's basketball Braves, ripped by personal losses through graduation, fell to an 8-14 season record.

New head coach Jim Howard took over the reins from Eddie Sutton and molded his inexperienced cagers into an exciting squad. Returning only two lettermen from last season's team, junior Jim Benien and senior Steve Miller, Howard practically had to start from scratch.

Miller, along with Louis Vann, two of only four seniors on the team, provided Brave followers with many exciting moments with their long distance shooting.

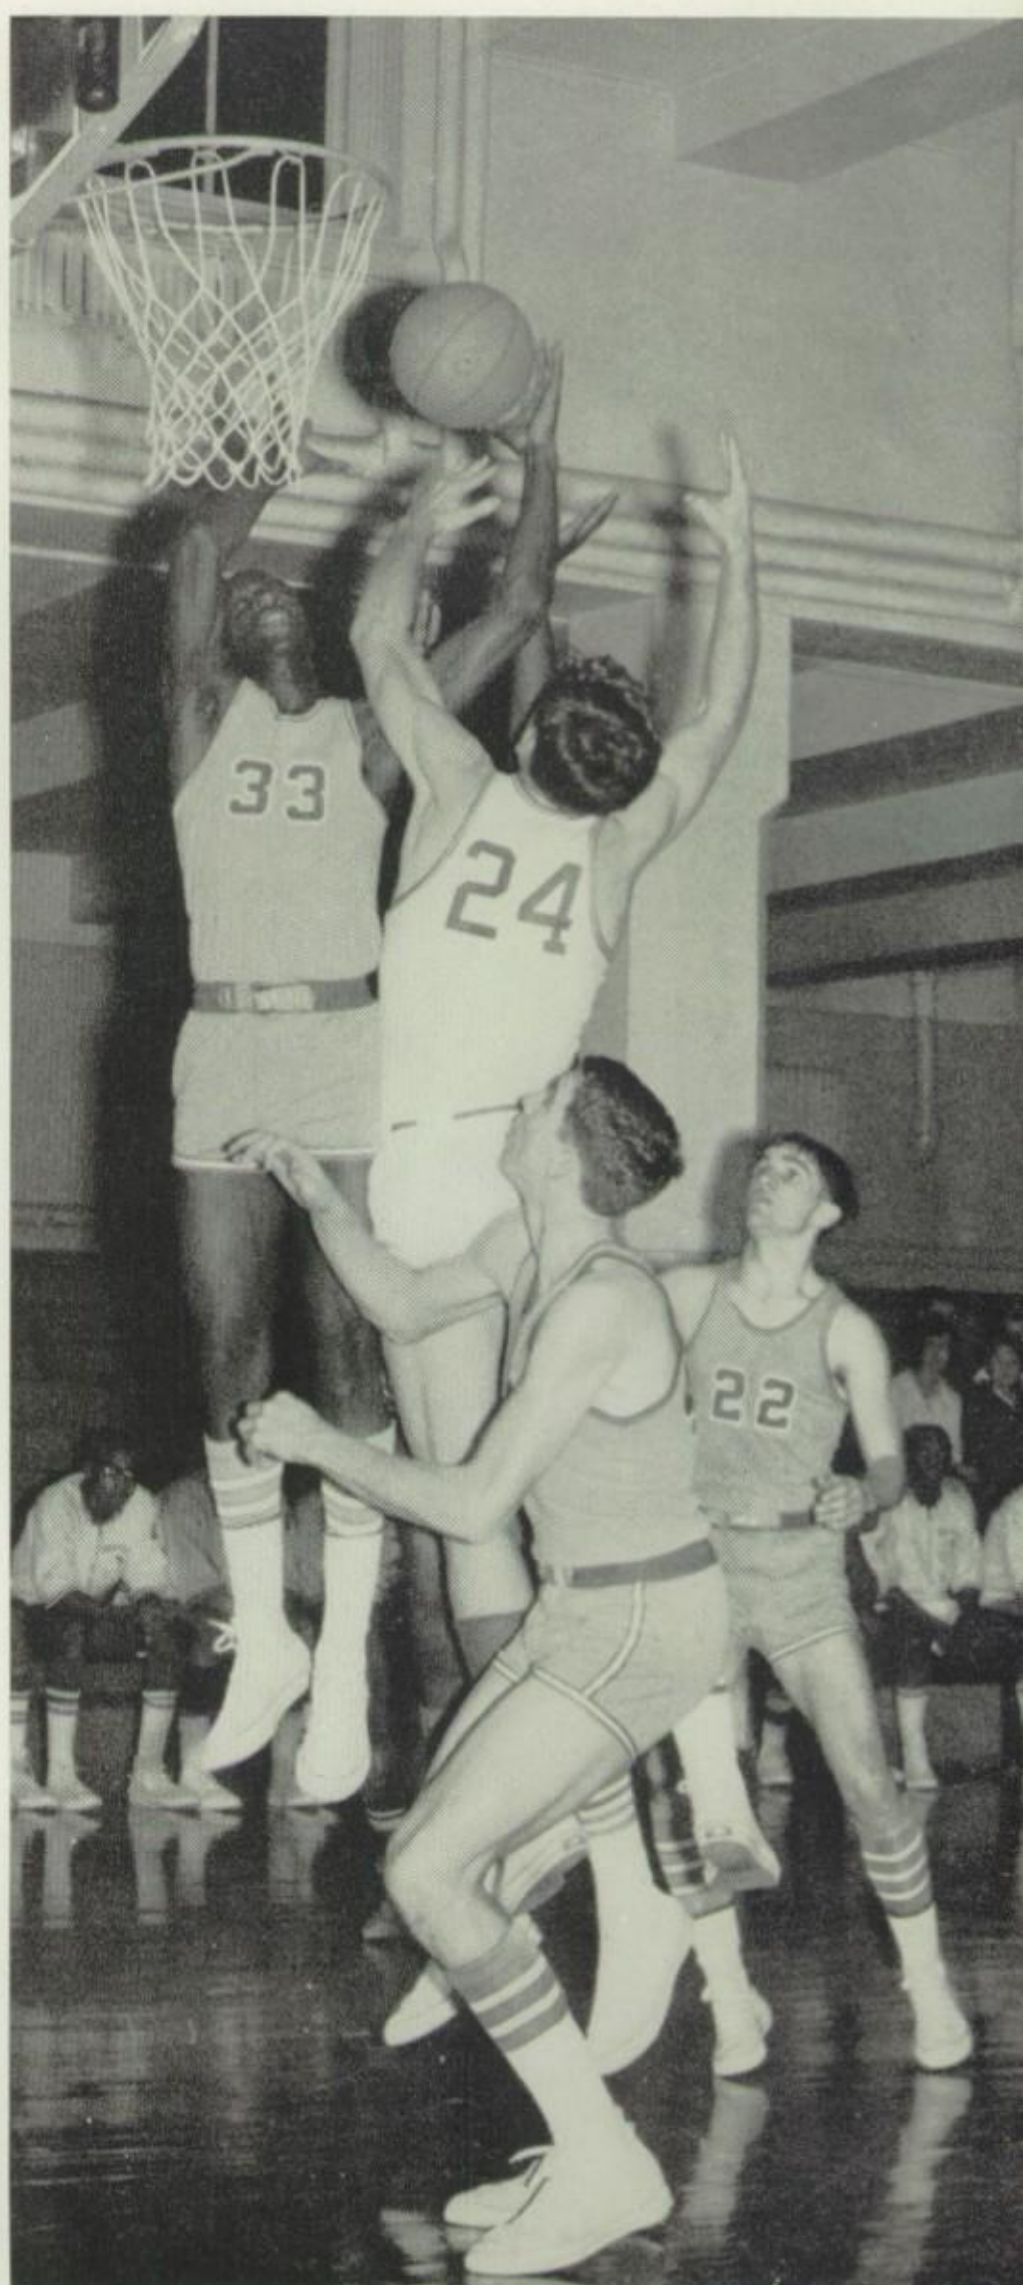

The youthful Braves made good showings in two tournaments. In the McLain Tournament, the Braves placed second, falling to the highly regarded Bartlesville Wildcats in the finals. In the classy Memorial Tournament of Champions, the Braves bombed Skiatook 70-40, and Wewoka 65-54, to take third place.

One of the most thrilling contests of the season took place in the Braves' gym, when the Rogers Ropers, rated

The Ropers looked like they were going to turn the game into a rout, leading at halftime 42-27 and at the end of the third quarter, 60-47. But the fourth quarter saw Central put on one of the hottest shooting exhibitions of the season. With Louis Vann and Art Ruby hitting jump shots from all points of the court, and Steve Miller continuously singeing the net from the corner, the Braves surged within one point of the exasperated Ropers, but their drive fell short and Rogers prevailed, 81-76.

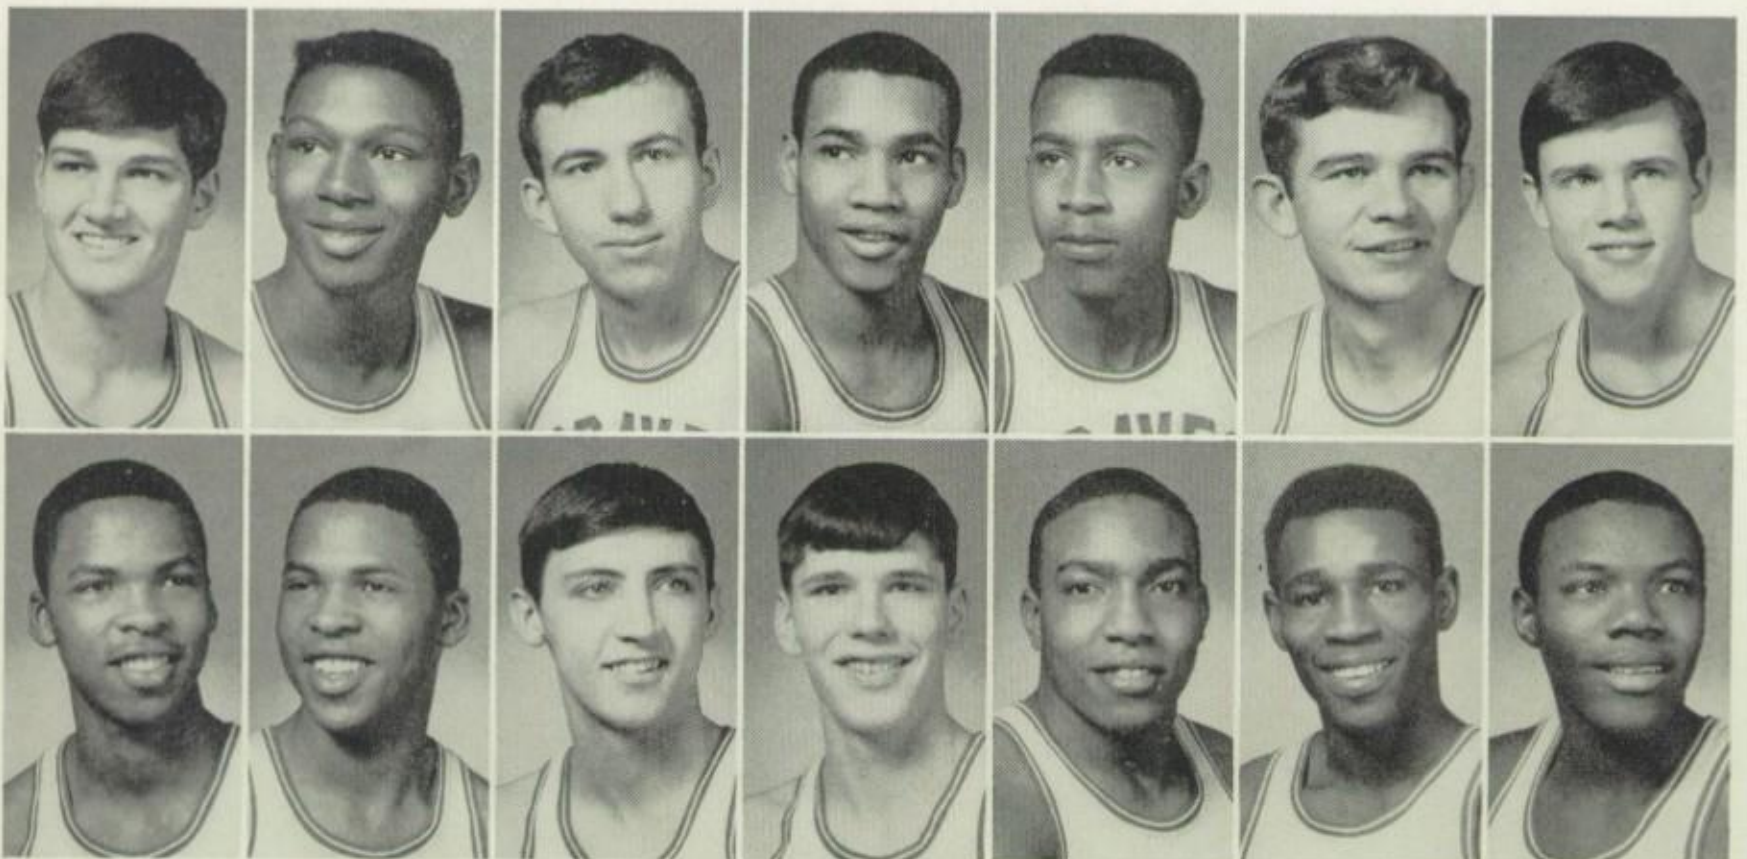

Picked for a last place finish in the conference, the Braves rallied in their last outing, defeated Edison and wound up in sixth place.

"Baby" Braves Boast Successful Season

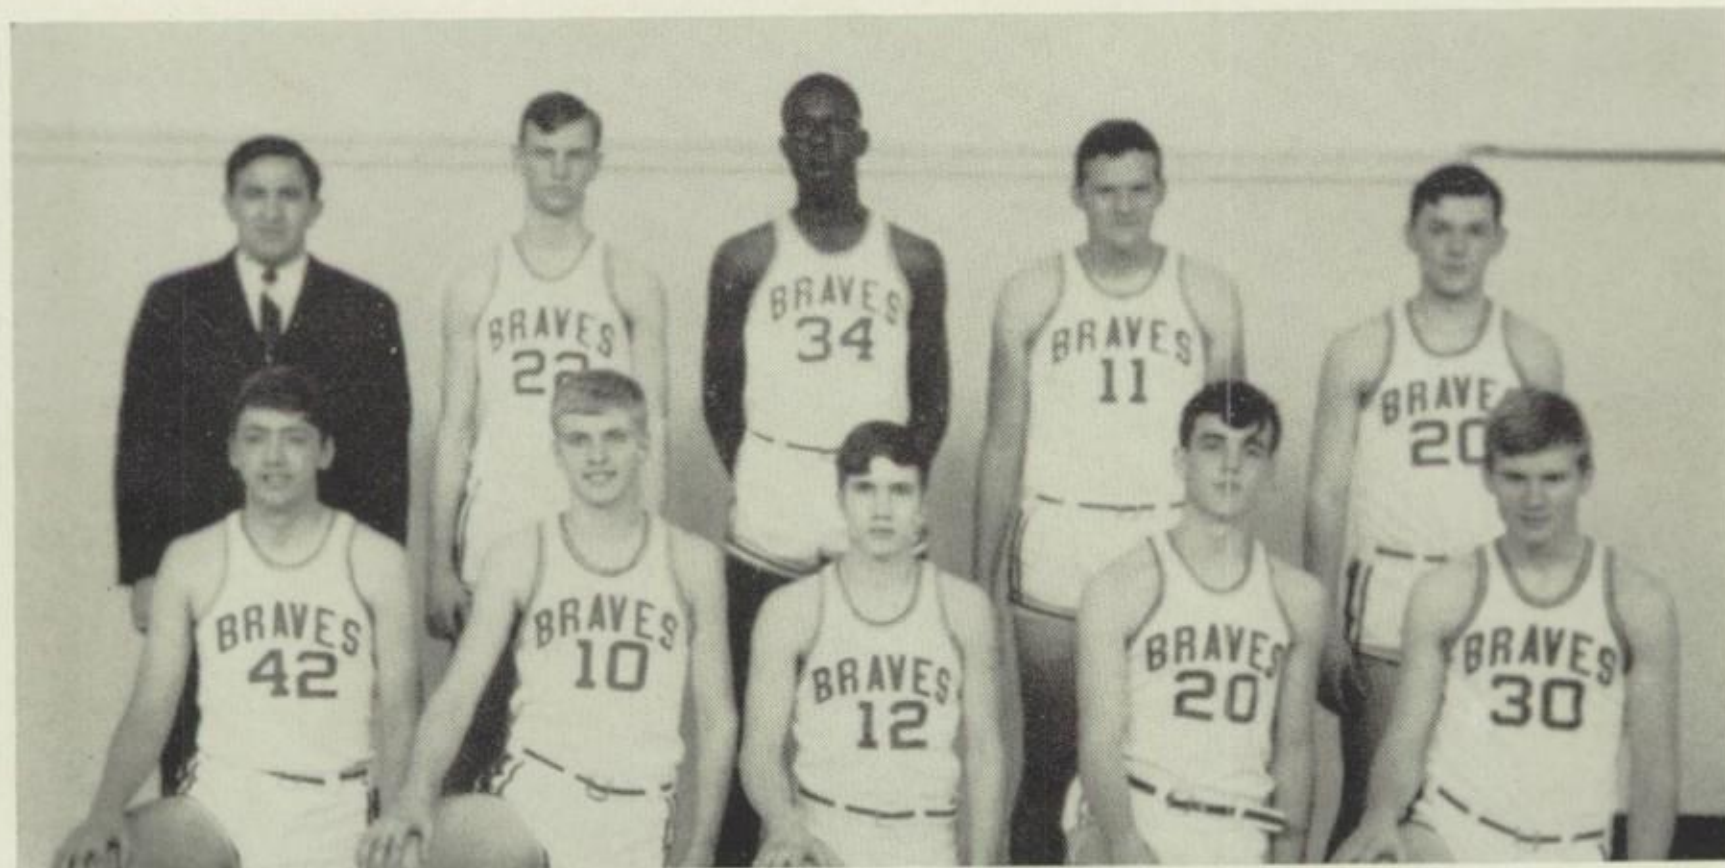

Donnie McMullen scores two points against an opponent.

Central's baby Braves, the B-squad, ran up a 10-8 season record in Coach Bob Bruno's maiden season. The demanding Bruno replaced coach Jim Howard, who moved up to the varsity.

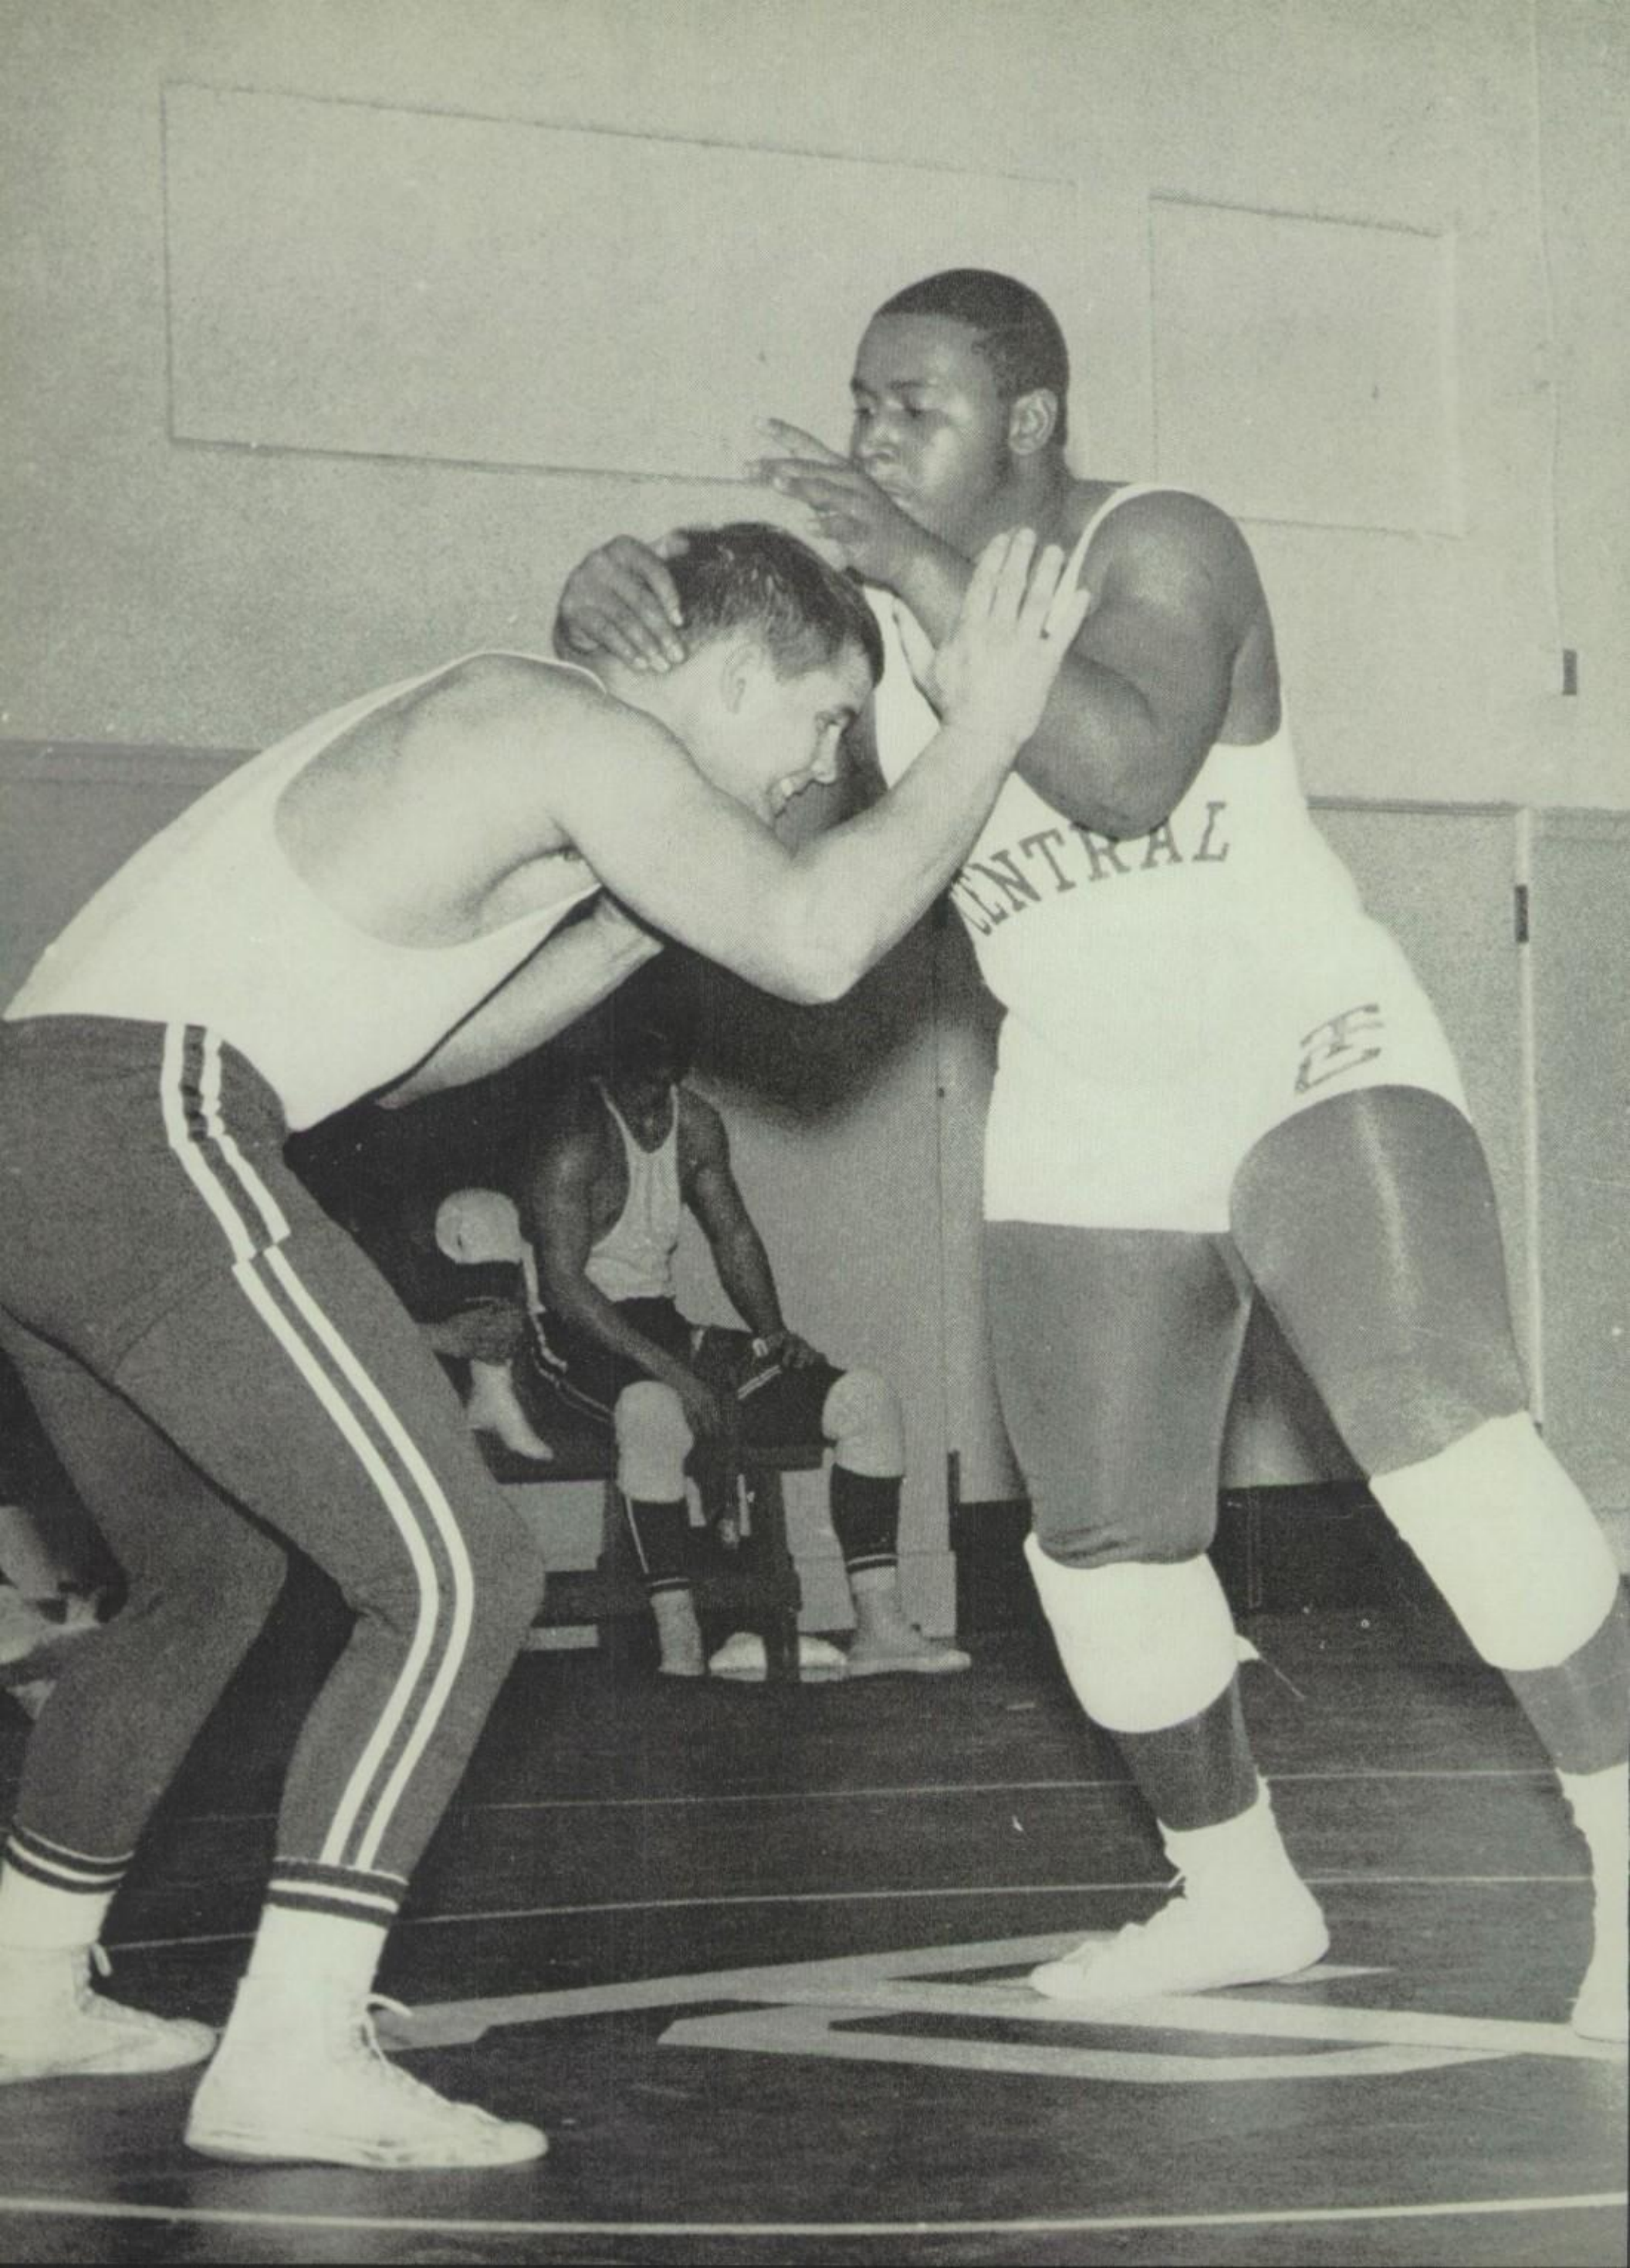

Because of a lack of seniors on the varsity, many B-squad boys also lettered on the A-squad. As a result, there was no set B-squad line-up and coach Bruno tried to find a combination of boys that would work together as a unit. Bruno also tried to play his younger boys as much as possible so they could gain experience needed to play on the varsity next season.

In the annual All-City B-squad Tournament, Central was beaten in the semifinals by the McLain Scots. The young Braves best showings of the season came against two of the tougher teams in the city. They edged Hale, runner-up in the city tournament, 47-46 on a last second shot, and nudged a strong Rogers team 74-73 in overtime.

Tough Grapplers Force Conference Tie

Jumping off to a quick start, the Central matmen pinned down a highly successful season by winning a portion of the Oklahoma Seven Conference Championship. The Braves were led by six junior and eleven senior lettermen. The season opened with third and second place finishes in the Edison Invitational and Putnam City Tournaments. Central had an outstanding dual record of eight wins, one loss, and one tie. Mike Wahl and Ernie Carter each received the "Wrestler of the Week" award presented by the Tulsa World for defeating two highly touted foes. Junior Ken Damron, although defeated in the Regional and State meets, finished all dual meets unbeaten.

The Braves turned in an outstanding performance in the Regional Tournament held at Edison. Seven Braves placed to secure a strong second place finish behind Webster. The state tournament proved disappointing, however, as only two Braves reached the semi-final competition.

Young Harriers Face Trying Schedule

Although plagued by youth and inexperience, new Central coach Richard Lousch guided his squad through a demanding schedule to a successful season. Having only two returning lettermen and the help of three hard-running juniors, Tommy Duncan, Charley Smith, and Hank Hammons, the team placed well during the season. The Central harriers placed fourth in the conference meet and sixth in the State meet at Stillwater.

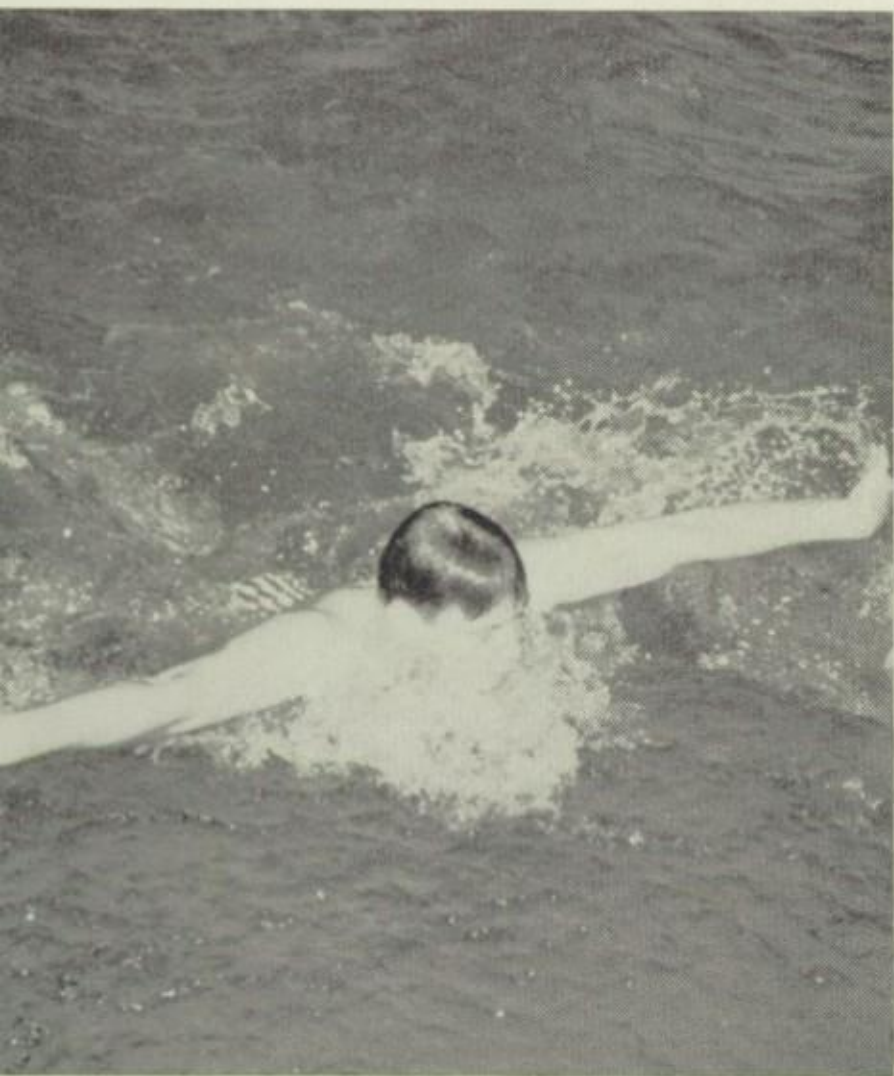

Highlighting the season for the team was the OBU Invitational. In a traditionally tough meet, run annually at Shawee, our Braves came through with a determined effort to snare a third place finish.

RECORD: Central 22, Rogers 37; Central 29, Kelly 27; 5th, Edison Invitational; 3rd, OBU Invitational; 4th, Rogers Invitational; 7th, OSU Invitational; 4th, Conference meet; 6th, State meet.

Trying to gain speed and stamina for the next meet, Hank Hammons and Tom Duncan churn around the track.

Mermen Splash to Victorious Season

With victory in sight, Jim Lamberton puts all his muscle behind each stroke to bring another victory to Central.

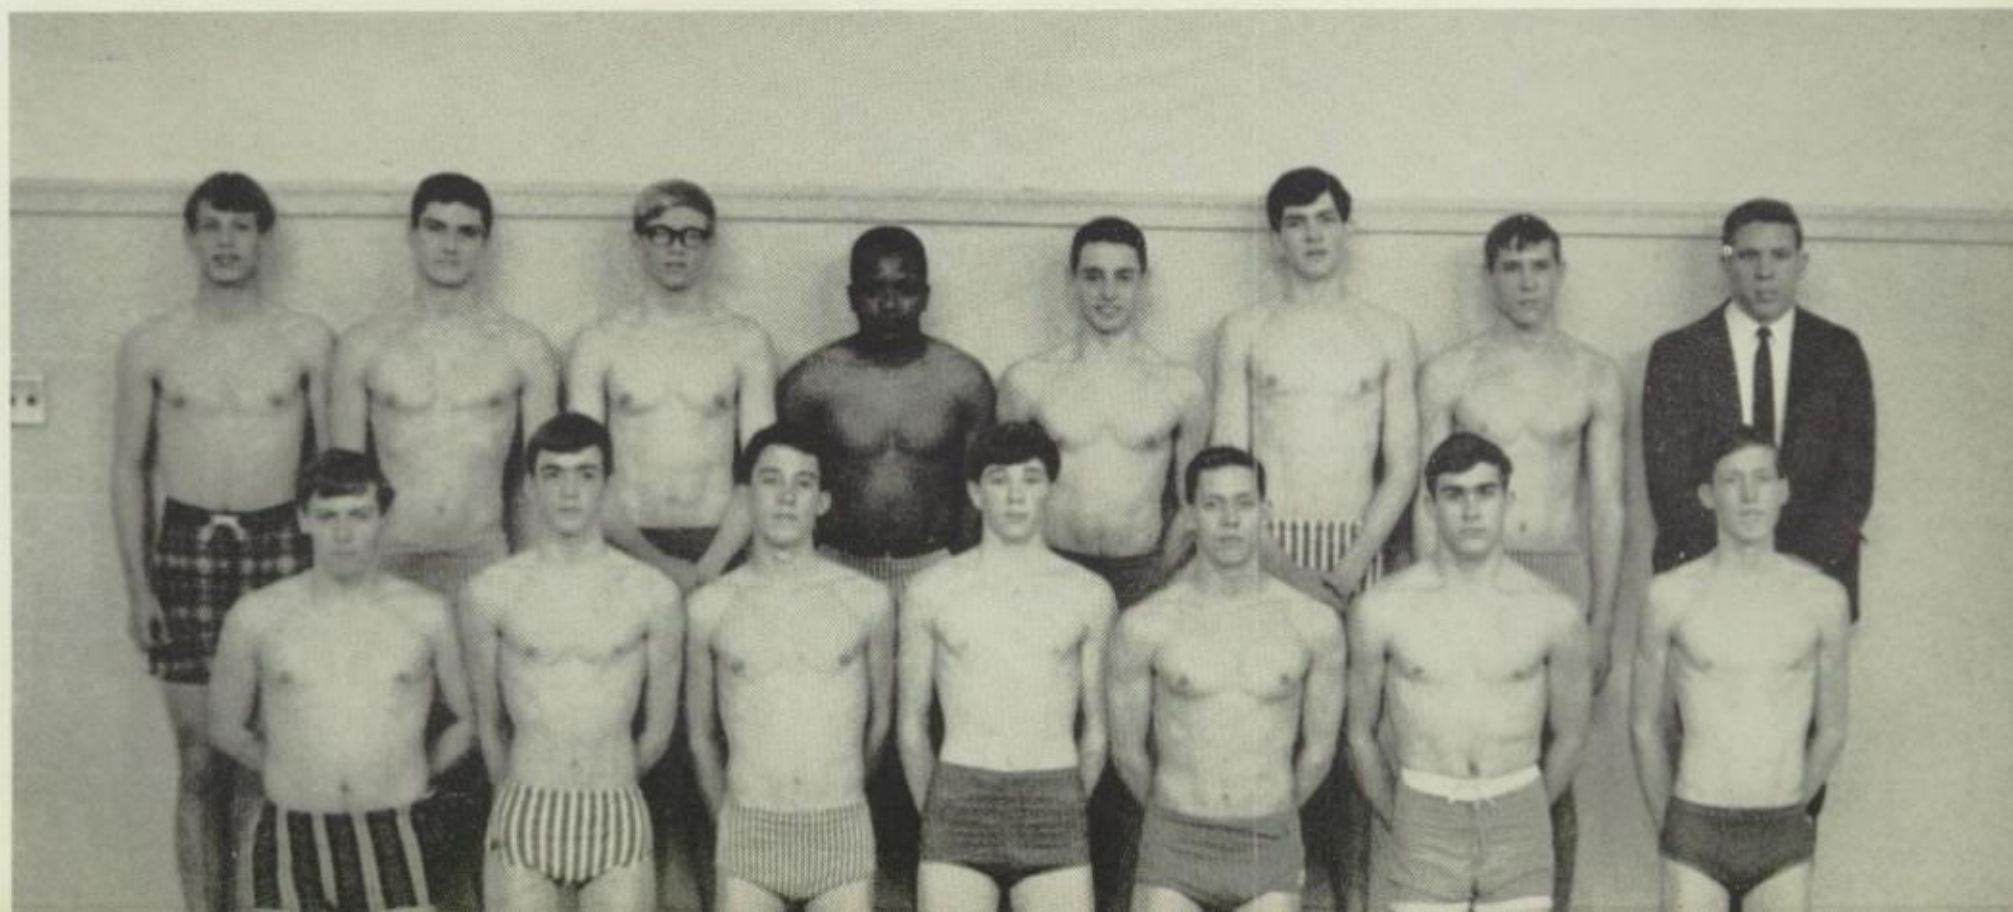

Rated low in the conference standings at the start of the season, the Braves, under Coach John Porterfield, swam to a surprising 7-5 meet record and fourth in the conference and the city.

Seniors played a key role in Central swimming victories this year. Bob Dow, Ron Jarvis, Don McConnell, and Terry Wean led the way in practice and in meets for all the underclassmen swimmers. The Braves swam their best against State Champion Bartlesville Wildcats, but the stronger Wildcats pulled past the Braves 54-41 in the waning moments of the meet.

Diamond Produce 12-6 Season Mark

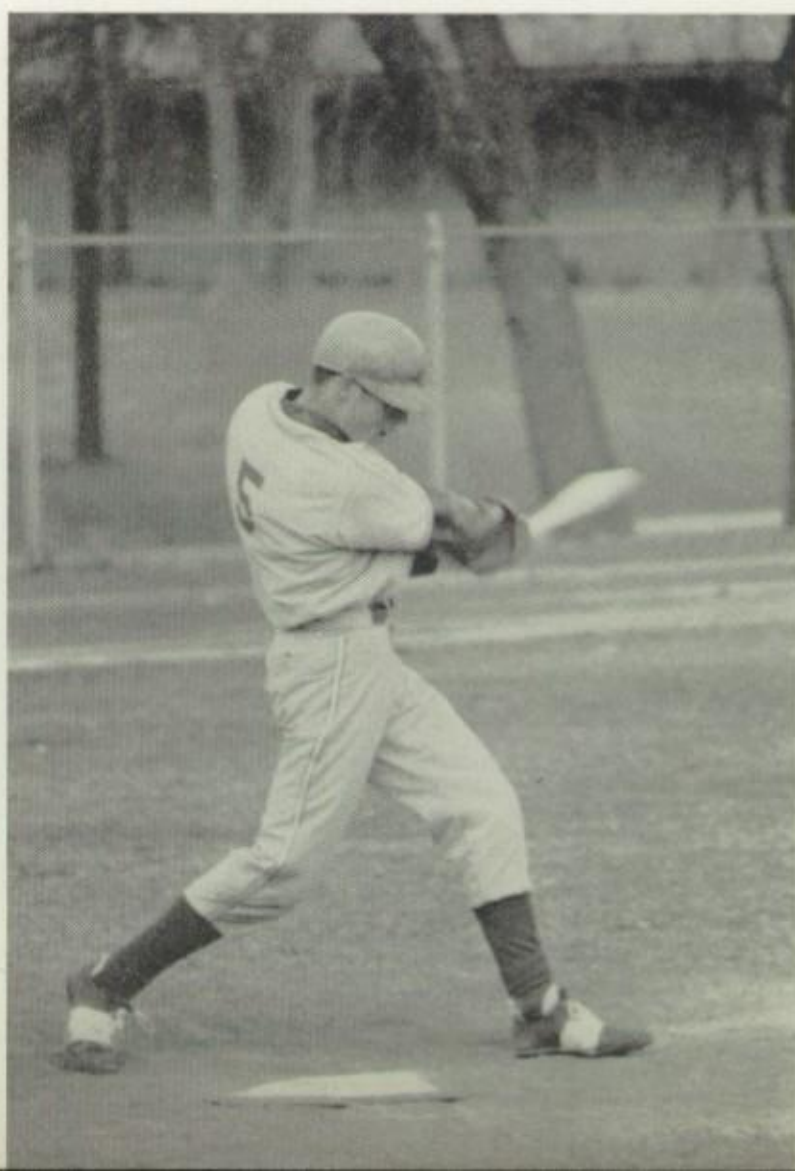

Behind the masterful pitching of Eli Gourd and Mark Wiltshire, the baseball team managed a 12-6 record after a late-season slump produced four straight losses.

Coach Clyde Charvoz in his seventeenth year at the helm guided our Braves to a second place conference finish. Don Jernigan, Roy Briggs, and Gerald Segovia ably supported their pitchers with consistent hitting throughout the season.

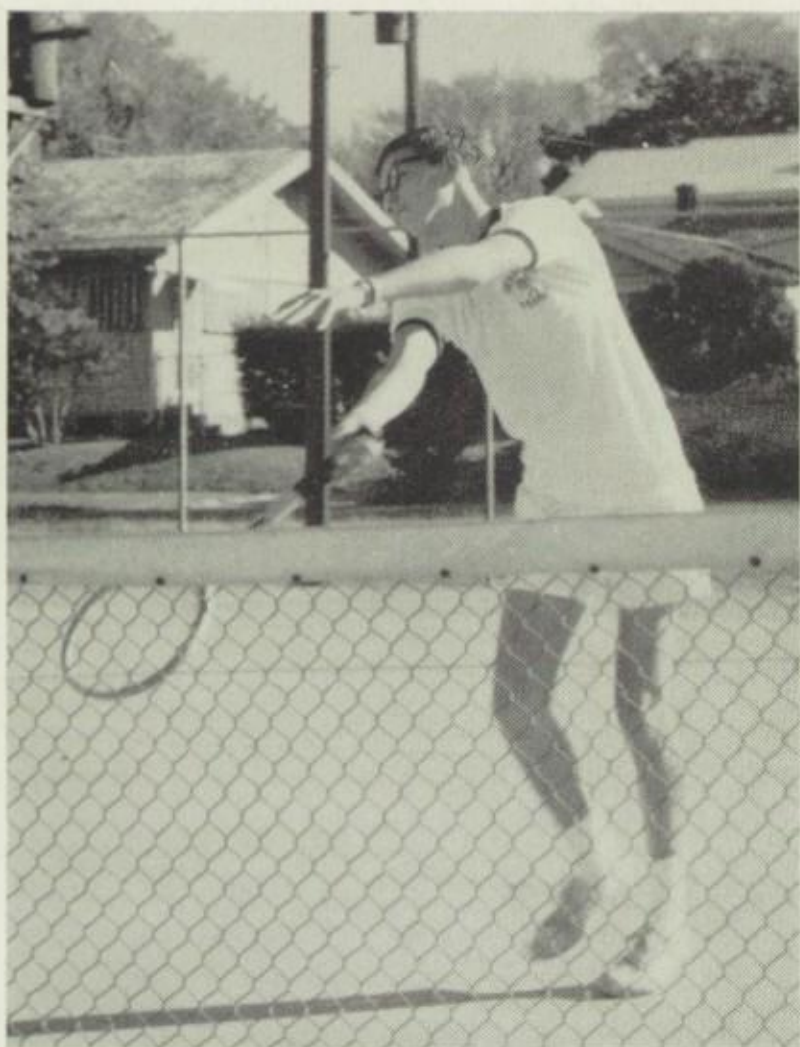

Jernigan and Gourd were selected for the All-City team with the latter being named to the All-State team.

BASEBALL RECORD—Central 3, Sapulpa 1; Central 5, McLain 0; Central 7, Edison 4; Central 11, Ponca City 0; Central 6, Rogers 0; Central 2, Hale 7; Central 3, Edison 2; Central 10, Bartlesville 0; Memorial Tournament, Third place; Central 7, Bartlesville 2; Central 4, Rogers 0; Central 6, Hale 3; Central 0, Webster 1; Central 2, Ponca City 3; Conference Meet—Central 0, Hale 4; Regional Tourney—Central 1, Washington 4.

Netters Break Two-Year Losing Streak

Returning a hard smash to his opponent, Randy Roszel attempts to revive Central's sagging tennis fortunes.

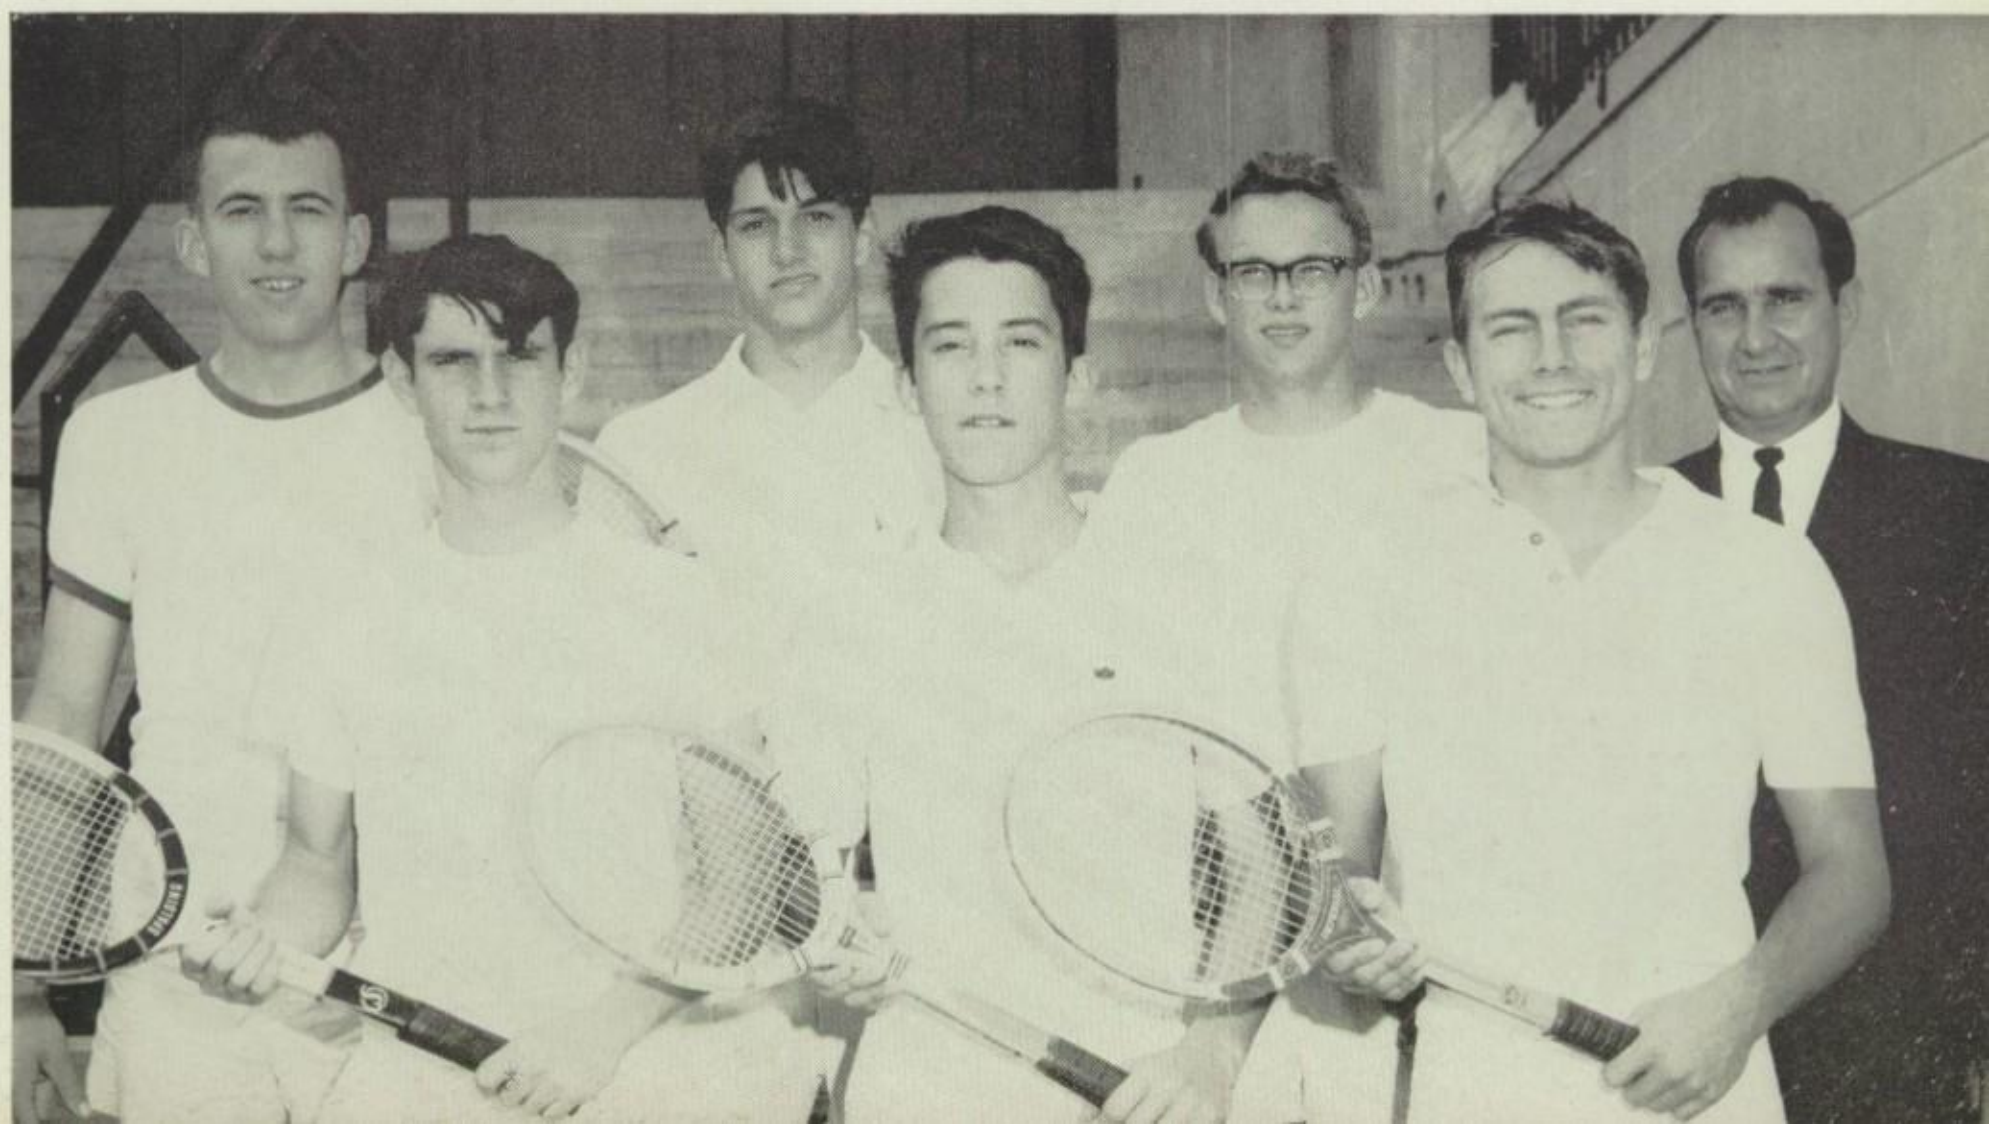

Breaking a two year no-win streak, Central's 1965-66 tennis team managed one victory, defeating Webster 8-1. The young squad, overloaded with juniors and sophomores suffered a hapless season.

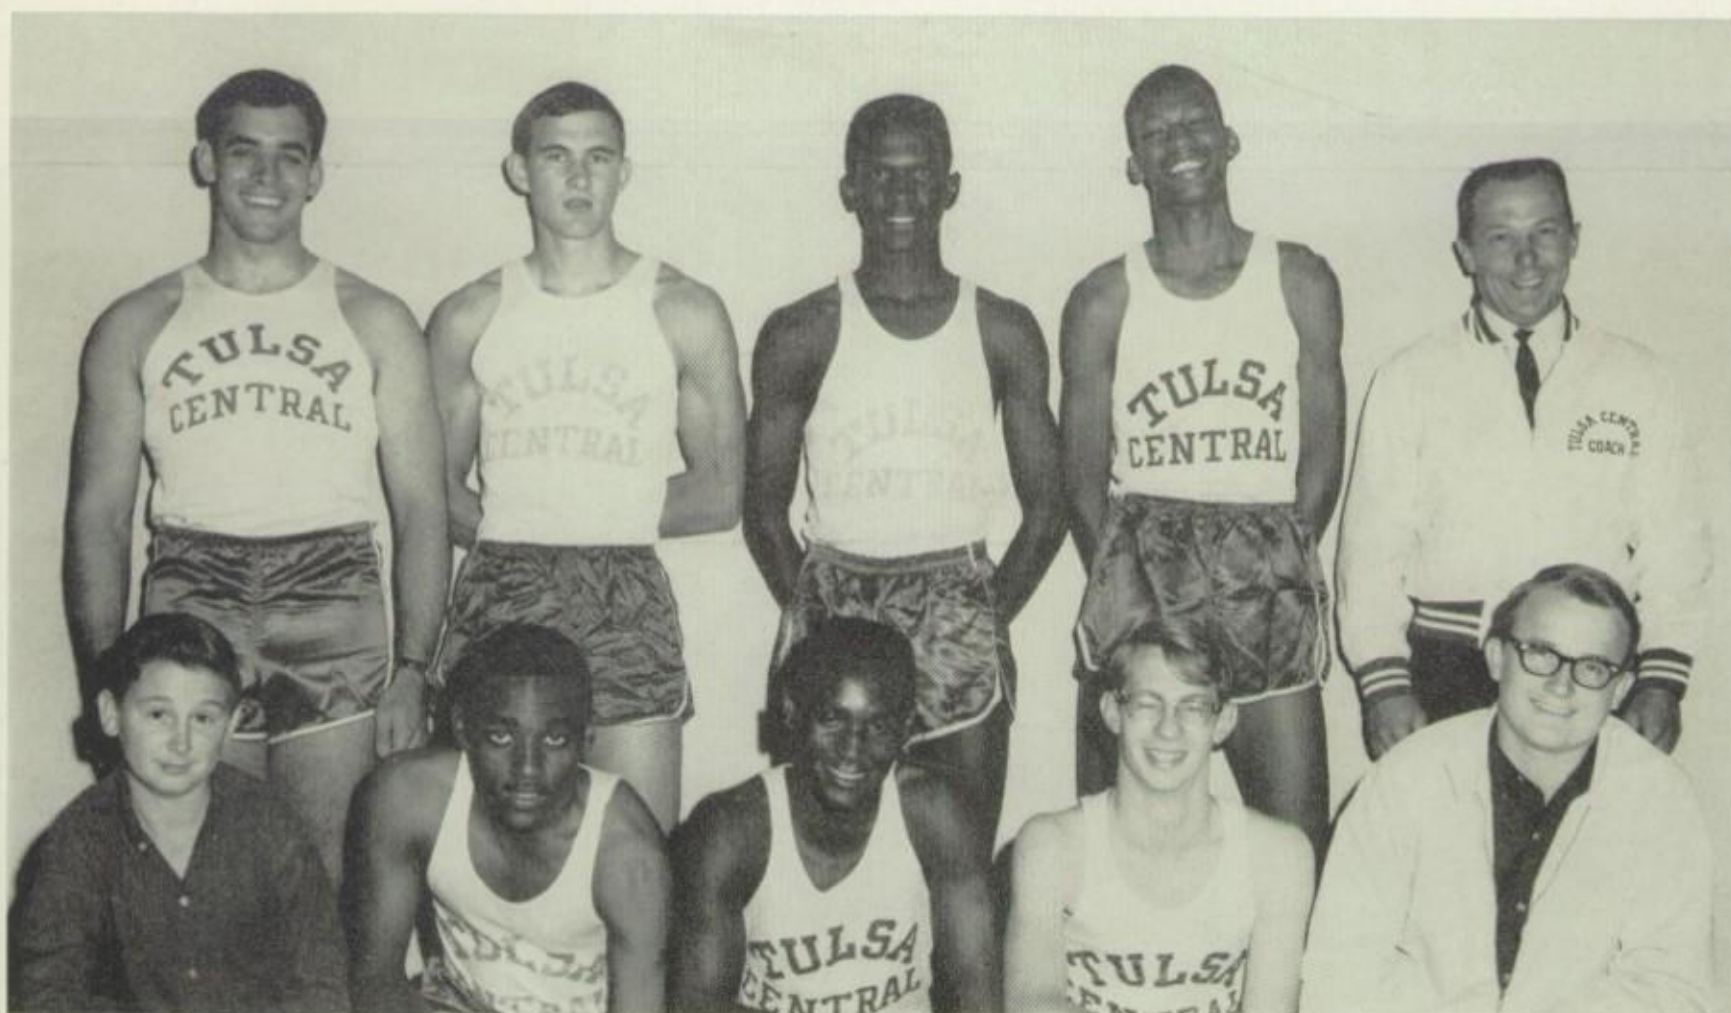

One bright spot in the season came with the doubles team. Finley Foster, a returning letterman, and Jim Benien, a transfer from Casica Hall, joined forces to win seven of their matches.

Coach Barney Ratzlaff's team finished seventh in the annual All-City Tournament and ended in a three way tie with Rogers and Hale for fourth in the Oklahoma Seven Conference.

TENNIS RECORD: Central 1, Edison 8; Central 0, Rogers 9; Central 0, Memorial 9; Central 2, Holland Hall 7; Central 1, Edison 8; Central 8, Webster 1; Central 0, Muskogee 9; Central 4, McClain 5; Central 1, Bartlesville 9.

Tracksters Claim Fourth in State Meet

With the help of its strength in weight events and the excellent running of David Holdman, the track team came from a fifth place conference finish to snare third place in the regionals. In the state meet they surprised everyone with a fourth place finish.

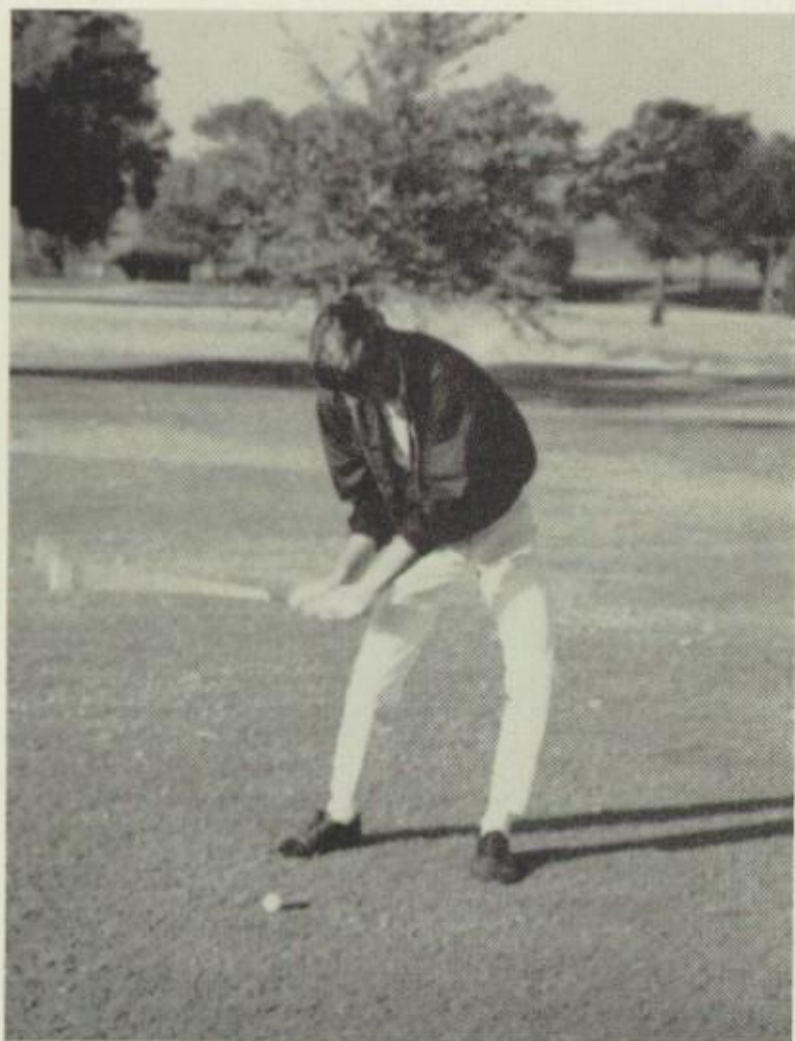

Tom Miles and Jim Benien won state championships in the discus and shot put, respectively. Benien heaved the shot 51'4", a new school record. James Williamson (broad jump) and Holdman (880 yard run) claimed runner-up spots in the state meet.

Cinderman David White loosens up before a meet so that he can be in the best condition possible for the race.

Green Golfers Experience Tough Season

Team leader Jerry Criner, warming up on a brisk morning, blasts onto the green at the Tulsa Country Club.

After capturing the city and conference titles last season, Central's golf team fell to fifth place in the conference in 1966. New head coach Jim Howard inherited the team from Eddie Sutton with no returnees from last year.

The team fell to a 5-7 season record but still managed a respectable fourth in the city. The highlight of the season for the young Braves came in the match against Edison, the state champions, when they edged the Eagles 3-2 in a rain-soaked contest.

GOLF RECORD: Central 5, Memorial 8; All-City, 4th place; Central 4, Bartlesville 9; Central 7, Rogers 6; Central 4, McLain 9; Central 3½, Holland Hall 9½; 0-7 Tourney, 5th place; Central 3, Edison 2; Central 7, Rogers 6; Central 5, Memorial 8; Central 2½, Edison 10½; Central ½, Bartlesville 12½; Central 0, Hale 13; Central 10½, Holland Hall 3½.

CHS Girls Stage Film for City Schools

With Mrs. Lynne Morgan as new departmental chairman, the Girls' Physical Education Classes learned the fundamental skills of the sports offered. In teams they strove for excellence in basketball. Individually they worked to perfect the varied skills of archery and tennis that they learned in class.

Two new teachers were added to the Girls' Physical Education department this year. Mrs. Betty Thompson and Mrs. Cynthia Bender assumed the role of gym teachers this fall for their first term at Central. In addition to their teaching responsibilities, Mrs. Thompson became sponsor of Girls' Recreation Association and Mrs. Bender revived Synchronettes as their sponsor.

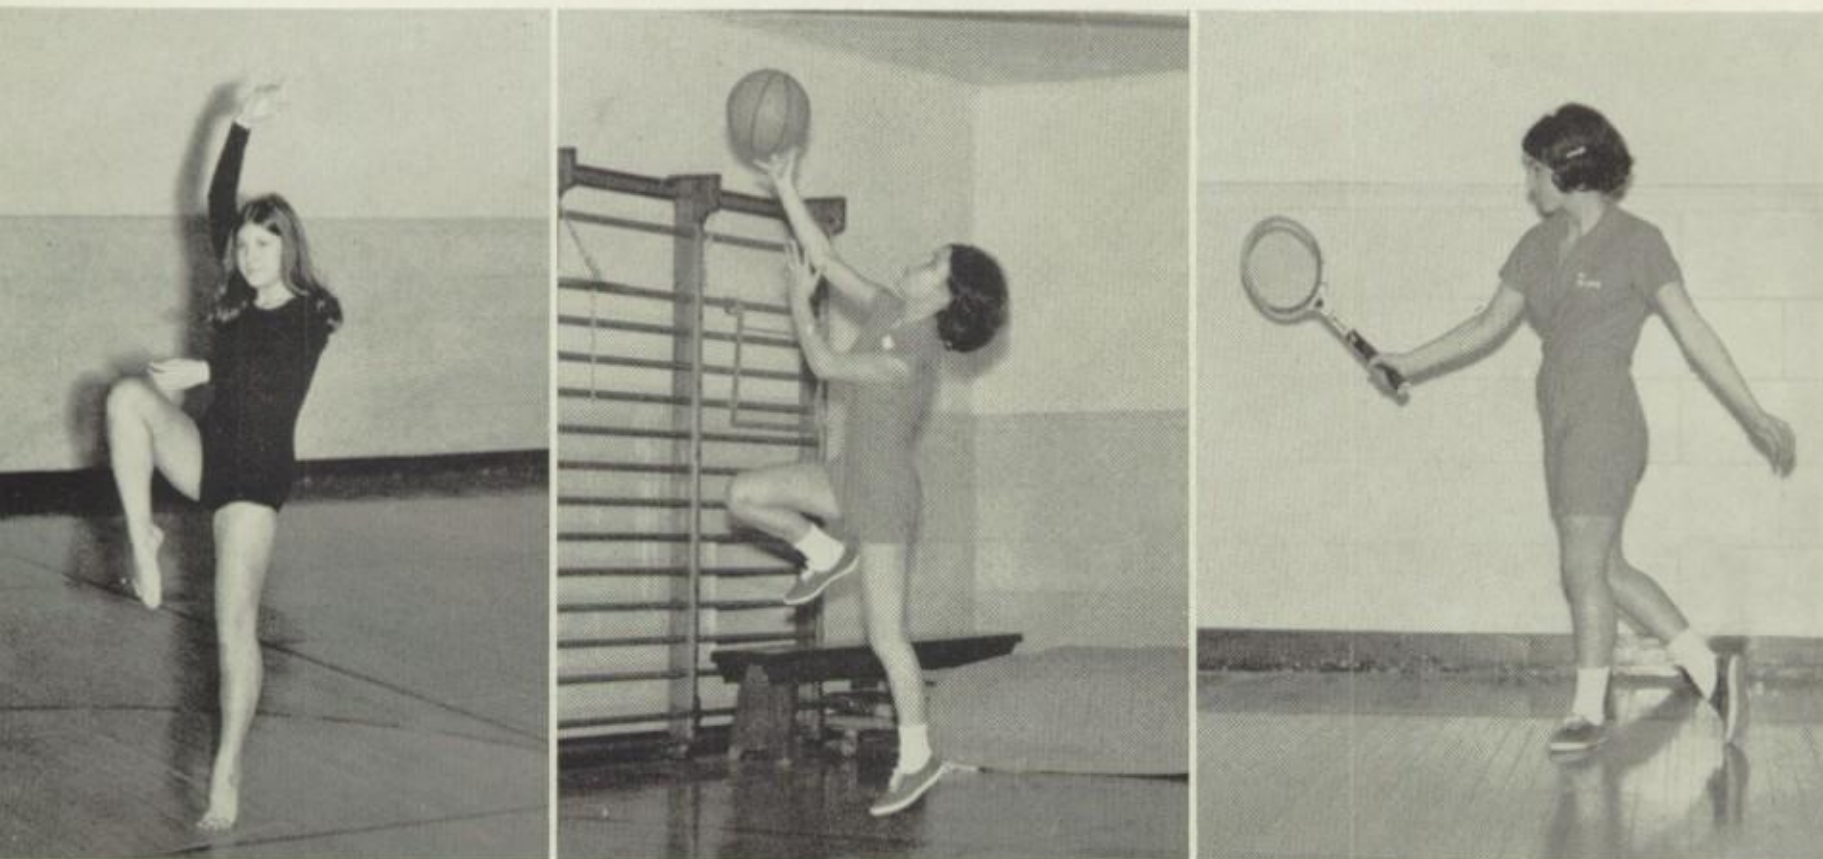

More needed equipment enhanced the gymnastics program. New uneven parallel bars and balance beams replaced the old homemade ones that were being used. The girls learned the basic skills needed in this activity, and through them gained poise and co-ordination.

The traditional cry for a hair dryer was induced by the swimming phase of Girls' P.E. Despite this setback the girls enjoyed and profited from the skills they learned. The more advanced swimmers were instructed separately in life saving.

A film was made of several of the P.E. classes in modern dance by Mrs. Beatrice Lowe, supervisor of Girls' Physical Education in the Tulsa Public Schools. The film will be used throughout the city in high schools for demonstration purposes.

Several of the modern dance classes gave an actual demonstration of dancing skills for physical education teachers in the Tulsa system.

Girls perfect the fundamentals of modern dance, basketball, and tennis that they were taught during regular classes.

Engaging in vigorous exercise on the uneven parallel bars, four girls use the skills they learned in Girls' P. E.

GRA Stresses Unity and Participation

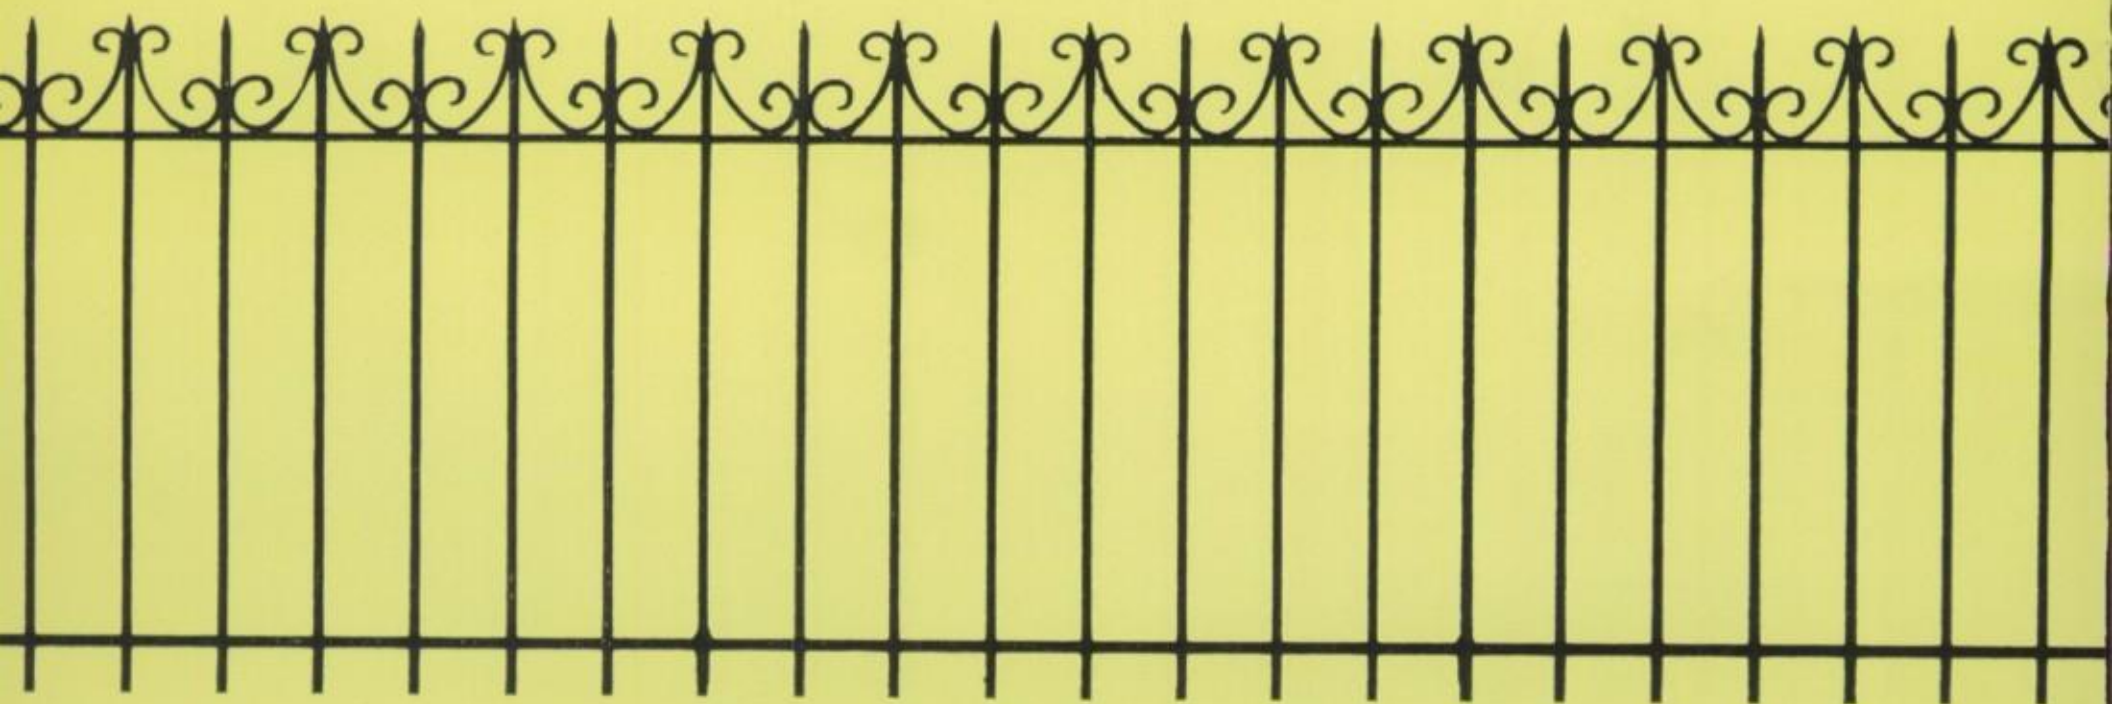

To promote the GRA purpose, sportsmanship plus good health, activities such as cook-outs and bowling were held. To establish unity among members, the officers stressed competitive participation for all.

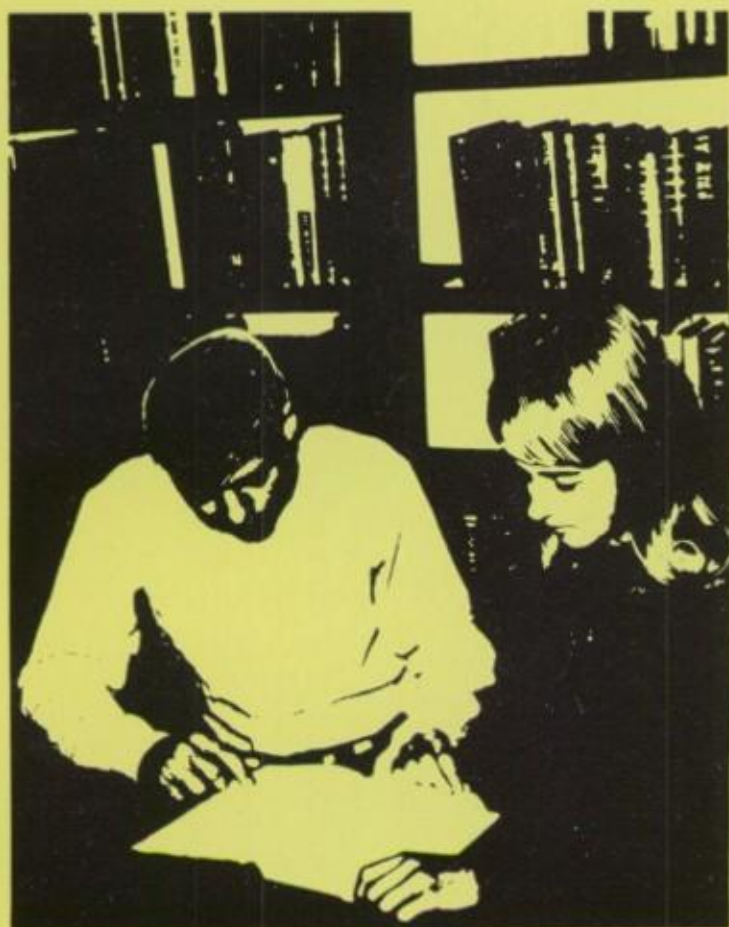

Once again the girls sponsored the annual "Playday" for ninth grade prospective members, and also challenged the faculty in games of volleyball and basketball.

As the year progressed the girls accumulated points by attending meetings, holding offices, and placing in tournaments. At the end of the year the points were totaled and each girl who earned the necessary points received state awards from the Oklahoma GRA Association. As their achievements proved, GRA reached an all-time high as an organization.

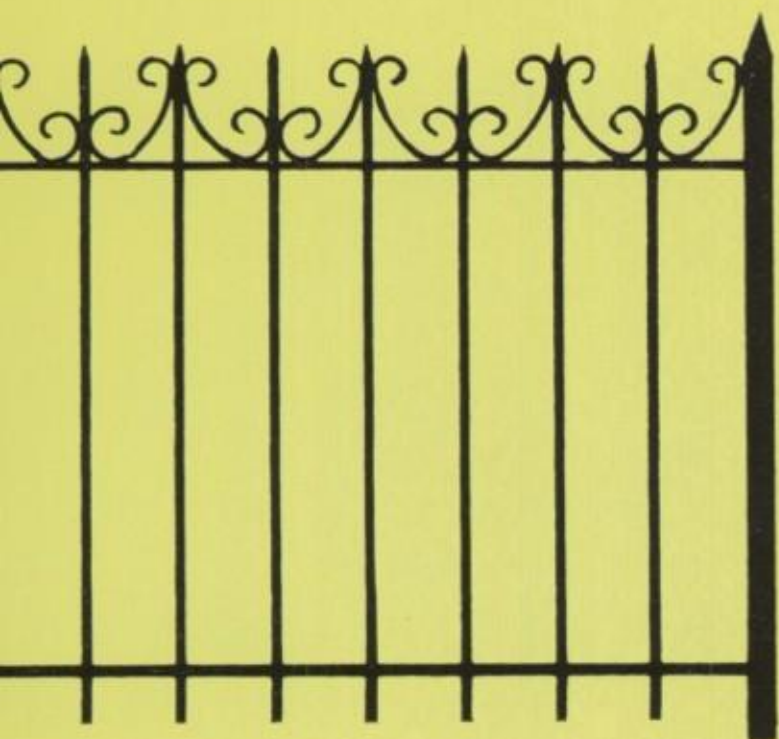

GRA officers discuss agenda for an upcoming meeting.

Trials to Meet Future with Confidence

As the 766 upperclassmen of Central finally reached the long-anticipated title of "Senior," we vowed to make our final year one to remember.

Established traditions took on a new, special meaning as we selected Sandy Needham as Miss Central High XLVI, crowned King Daze XLI, and chose Kye Christie to reign as the jovial Senior Santa. Seniors avidly supported our class play, The Truant Angel, in the most successful campaign of our three years at Central.

As we receive our diplomas, we suddenly realize the importance Central has played in our lives. With feelings of both merriment and melancholiness we turn to face the world, sure that the friendships, knowledge, and values gained while at Central will always endure throughout our lives.

Enthusiastic and Energetic Juniors

Meeting on the front lawn, the Junior Board takes time out from studies to discuss future events for their class.

Focus on Studies and Social Functions

For the 909 juniors enrolled at Central, this year was possibly one of their most impressive and memorable ones. Education took on a deeper meaning, serious plans for postgraduation began, and extracurricular activities broadened the social lives of many.

Juniors took a greater interest in school activities and felt more a part of the magic of the Central spirit and tradition. The class play, Rally Round the Flag Boys, was a smashing success as was the enthusiastic campaign. As the end of the year drew near, each member of the class looked with anticipation to receiving the hallowed senior ring, a symbol of accomplishment.

With two years behind them, the Class of '68 moves on to the last year at Central, hoping to achieve even better and bigger goals.

Sophomores Find Year at Central High

Cast members from the sophomore class play reminisce a favorite scene before the old, dilapidated "Ramshackle Inn."

Full of Excitement and New Tribulations

Election of officers was the first event on the agenda for the Class of 1969. Miss Rae Blackburn sponsored the underclassmen with the help of the two class counselors, Miss Bernice Tomlinson and Mr. Aubrey Baer.

Six lively and sparkling girls made up the B-squad cheerleading squad. The squad which proved to be very successful was a first for Central High. Mrs. Jane Ward sponsored the enthusiastic group of girls.

In the fall, the underclassmen chose nine girls, three of whom were chosen as the sophomore queen attendants.

By the end of their first year at Central, the 970 members of the class of 1969 were looking forward to their remaining two years with graduation as their ultimate goal.

Nine lovely finalists wait anxiously to see which three will represent their class as sophomore queen attendants.

Busy Student Council Plays Post Office

Steve Miller, president

Under the new sponsorship of Mr. Tom Turnbaugh the Student Council continued its traditional activities. The council membership consisted of representatives elected from each sophomore, junior, and senior homeroom, members-at-large, and the officers.

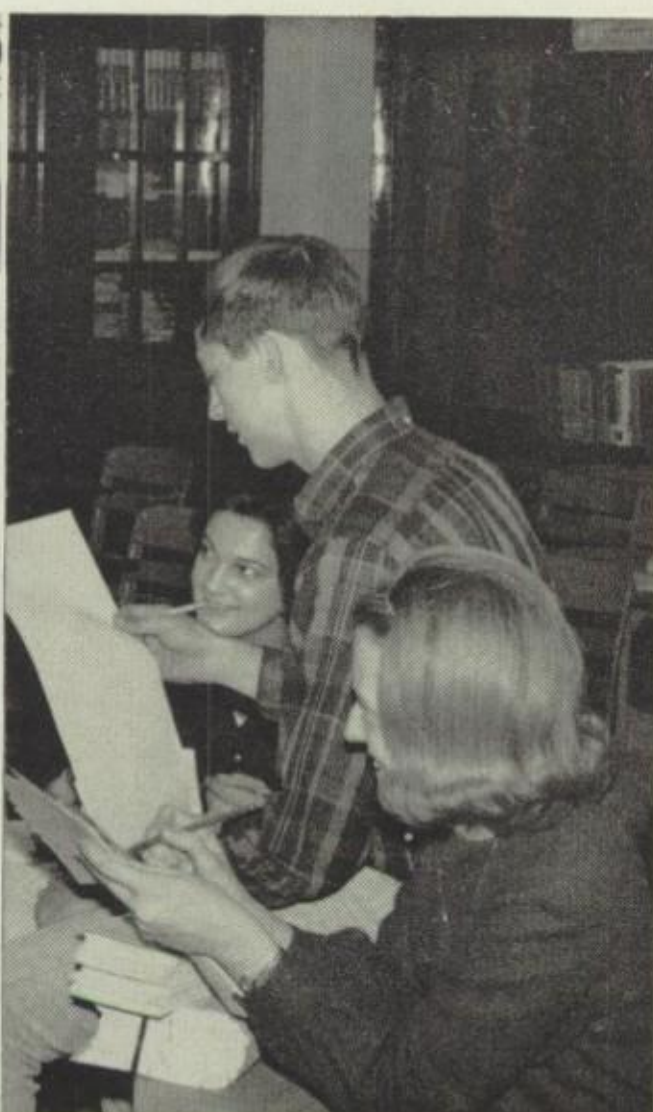

First semester council activities varied with the seasons. First evidence of the Student Council's work was the directing of all-school enrollment. "Spirit Week" aimed at promoting school spirit, and "Hello Centrals," the annual school directories, were the next council projects. The holiday post office and "Rudolph's Romp," the Christmas mixer, concluded activities before Christmas vacation.

A fund raising candy sale to sponsor AFS and "Teacher Appreciation Day" ended the year's projects.

AFS Participation Continues Tradition

Equally at ease in loafers and wooden shoes Hanneke models her native dress for Susan, her host sister.

Continuing its leadership in the American Field Service program, Central sponsored two students abroad and had two foreign students here. AFS was again directed by the Student Council through the support of the student body. The travels were financed by an annual fund raising candy sale held in February.

"We really don't wear wooden shoes all the time," said Hanneke Teekens from the Hague, Holland in reference to a misconception about her country's customs. Because of his extensive interest in both his native and U.S. sports Oscar Rivarola soon felt at home.

Susan Gelino participated in the summer AFS program that took her to West Kirby, England, for three months. Selected to study abroad, Bob Helland spent this year in Switzerland.

Club Collects Records for Soldiers

Members record a tape under Miss Coursey's inspection.

Understanding customs and traditions of countries the world over was the goal of the International Club. To achieve this the club heard several guest speakers. Mark Hale talked about The Young Tulsan's tour to Holland; Ingunn Lystad about Norway; and the A.F.S. students Hanneke Teekens and Oscar Rivarola about their homelands.

At the beginning of the school-year the club received a tape recorded by students in Japan. Wishing to respond to this gesture of goodwill, the club sent a recording to Japan which told about typical school activities in the U.S.

The club also collected records at school to send to American soldiers in Viet Nam for Christmas.

Fun in Fluency Aim of Language Clubs

In order to add extra color and interest to the meetings, the members of Spanish Club conducted all their business in Spanish.

Tony Alonzo, a Spanish speaking student from Bishop Kelley High School, was one of the many guest speakers of the year. A Christmas party with a pinata added to their festivity, and in the spring the members had dinner at a Mexican restaurant.

An avid interest in the culture of ancient Greece, and enrollment in Latin, were the only requirements for membership in Latin Club. Under the sponsorship of Miss Virginia Quesenbery and Mrs. Sue Newton, members kept busy with many activities in connection with Greek customs.

Delegates were sent to the State Convention, and at Christmas they celebrated Saturnalia.

Mathematical Brains Analyze Unknown

With Mr. Jack Skelton directing, Central's Math Club, Mu Alpha Theta, conducted a probing year. Being responsible for one program a year, a member presented a discussion at the Wednesday meetings to further the students' knowledge of math logic and probability. Included was a talk on the proof of the Pythagorean Theorem.

The Central chapter attended the regional convention held at Nathan Hale High School on February 11. To raise money the members sold paper back books explaining the fundamental theories of mathematics, helping students to strengthen their math knowledge.

Honor Students Strive for Excellence

An N.H.S. pin rewards honor students for hard work.

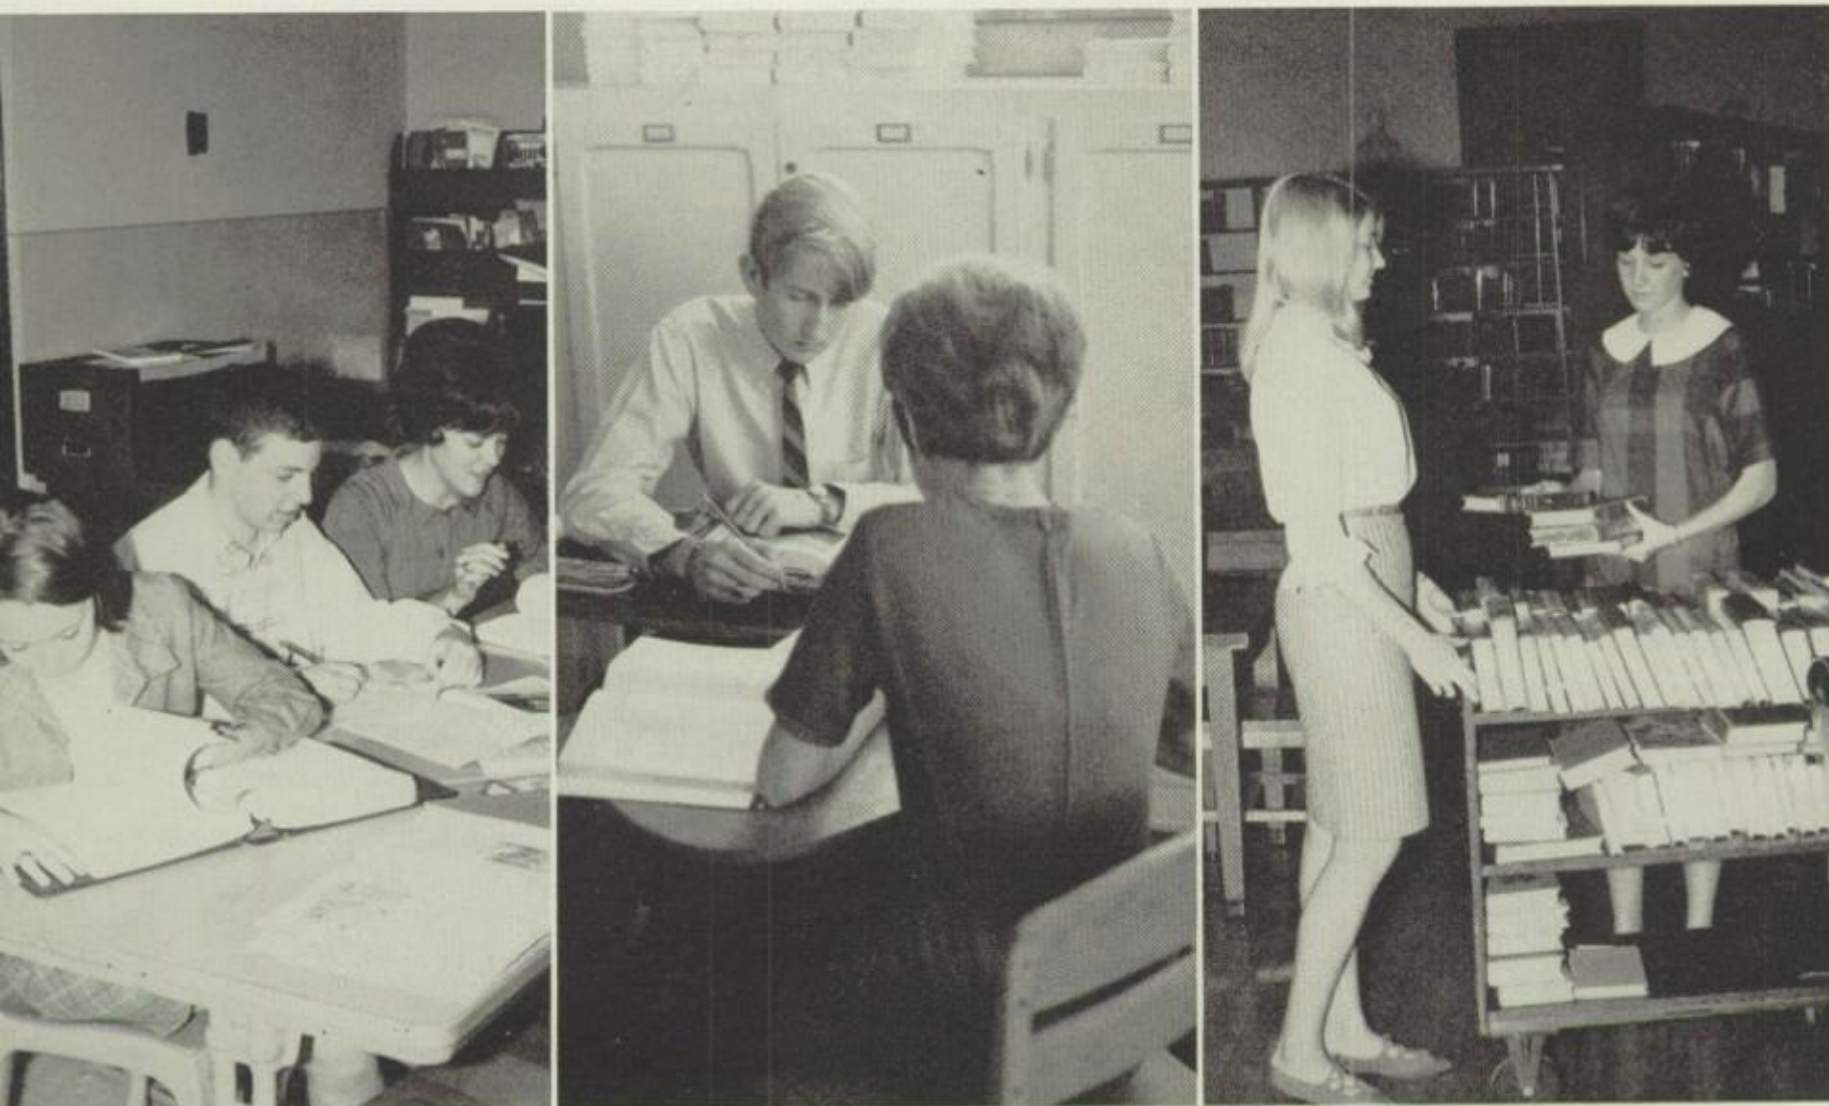

Honoring students excelling in the fields of character, scholarship, leadership, and service, the National Honor Society stressed academic quality. Its one hundred and fourteen members were initiated in a city-wide ceremony held at the Civic Center on November 8, 1966. The main speaker was Dr. Robert Kamm, President of OSU.

Under the combined sponsorship of Mr. Roy Lewis and Mr. Aubrey Baer Central's chapter admitted students maintaining a 3.25 grade average for their junior year. The club's goal was to carry out five service projects; tutoring, assisting in the library, compiling a list of scholarships, running a book store, and lecturing. As a new money-making project the club sold zip-code books in the spring.

Troupe Marches through Year of Plays

Using all of their talents in make-up, lighting, and acting, this year's Thespian troupe made their first play a resounding success. The one act play "Your Rooms Are Ready Now" was followed by equally successful productions presented during each quarter.

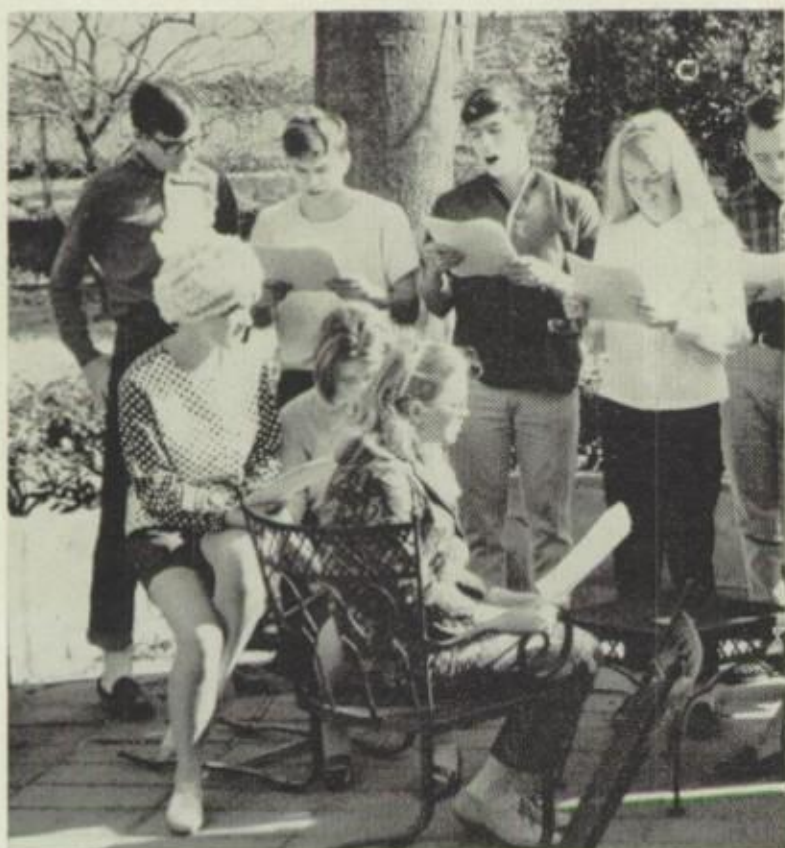

Frequent meetings were interlaced with a tour to the KAKC radio station in November. Peggy Helmerich, former Hollywood actress, was among the various speakers.

The highlight of the year, the annual Christmas party, also served as an initiation for apprentices who had earned enough points to become members. The year was closed with a banquet honoring the officers for the following year.

Bureau Attempts Major Accomplishments

Energetic members practice for Speakers' Bureau assembly.

Patriotism was the main theme of Speakers' Bureau this year. During the September tryouts, the candidates were required to give a patriotic speech with the use of proper expression and emotion. The annual assembly based on Patriotism was written, directed and performed by members of the club. This assembly was also conducted for the Daughters of American Revolution.

Among the guest speakers was the Reverend Kenneth Martin, pastor of the Osage Christian Church. Reverend Martin explained to the club the value of speech in the ministry.

Camarata Displays Skill in Projects

"To serve Central and the community is our ultimate goal for this year," said Vivian Strobel, president, at the first meeting of the year. The members took it from there and diligently participated in numerous activities.

Beginning with a tea for new members early this fall, the organization ushered at assemblies, class plays, and PTA Back to School Night, all in quick succession, keeping the girls busy.

Through the ingenuity of its officers, the community projects were successful. These included a Halloween party given for the children at Sunnyside and the collection of food baskets for needy families around Thanksgiving time. The year concluded with the Key Club-Camarata Dance held at the home of Sue Rucker.

Inquisitive Members Probe Medical Field

Students interested in the many fields related to medicine gained much this year from their membership in Medico Club, a longstanding organization.

Lectures given by guest speakers and occasional films constituted the weekly meetings. Notable specialists such as William R. Reid, psychiatrist; Hugh Perry Jr., surgeon; and Robert Andres, pediatrician; gave talks on their respective fields. These speeches gave the students opportunity to get first-hand information on the career of their choice.

Special events of interest included a tour of Hillcrest Hospital and a farewell party at the end of the year.

Quiet is the key word as chessman Richard Jones battles his opponent Graham in a close contest.

Chess Stimulates the Intellectuals

Concentration. Harass. Execution. Strategy. Scheme. These are the words that describe chess, a game that is intellectually stimulating.

Mr. Winford Butts, the new sponsor, encouraged inter-school competition. Each member started with 1800 points and accumulated or sacrificed points according to the outcome of each game. The players with the greatest number of points qualified for the city-wide tournament which was held in April, at Central Park.

Richard Jones, president of the club, revealed his feelings toward chess by remarking, "Chess is not a game; it's a Battle!" Richard was selected for the second year as an all-city chessman.

Drive Exceeds Council Expectations

Throughout the year, Central's Red Cross worked to help people everywhere. In October, the enthusiastic council members filled large gift boxes to send to refugee schools in Vietnam. The active Red Cross enrollment drive ran during November and the hoped-for average of twenty-five cents per person was successfully topped by the receipt of $906 at the end of the drive.

Miss Jewell Ramsey continued her long-respected direction of this hard-working organization. Central's Red Cross was honored this year by the opportunity of hosting the County Council meetings once a month. These meetings were held in the South Auditorium. In the spring, several members of the council attended the annual Webster Conference for leadership training.

Christmas finds council members swamped with gift boxes.

Talented Opera Club Members Whirl

When it was announced in November that the musical this year would be "Carousel", things began to spin for Opera Club members. The entire cast was soon rehearsing second hour and many nights after school. Their hours of hard work paid off in a great success.

The musical takes its name from the carousel that Billy Bigelow (Mark Burnham) operates. Billy marries Julie Jordan (Bette Allsopp) to the dismay of Mrs. Mullen, owner (Cindy Harris).

Treble Tones Conquer Difficult Notes

Treble Tones use pre-class time for extra practice.

Practicing and improving their voices were the prime objectives of Treble Tones. Under the guidance of Mr. Rex Teague, the girls strove to improve their tone quality and general musical sound. During the year they helped present the Night of Miracles for an annual Christmas assembly and also appeared in other school programs. They brought the year of hard work to a close with a spring party.

The class was designed for any sophomore girl interested in vocal music. After a year of hard work and much preparation the girls felt they were finally ready to audition for either Opera Club or A Cappella Choir.

Glee Club Pursues Vocal Techniques

Tone production and careful diction were but two of the valuable aspects of musicianship stressed by Mr. Rex Teague to the Girls' Glee Club. The girls found that developing these skills required natural ability, determination, and practice. The knowledge gained by the group prepared them for tryouts for membership in Central's more advanced vocal music classes.

The Glee Club's year was highlighted by participation in the "Night of Miracles" and a final show of talent in the annual Spring Concert.

Before another strenuous rehearsal, the members of Girls' Glee Club go through the daily routine of passing out music for their singing practice.

Choir Highlights Religious Assemblies

Exhausted Choir personnel relax for a few minutes between wearying performances to visit among themselves.

Under the guidance of Mr. Rex Teague, the A Cappella Choir presented a variety of spiritual and religious music. The Choir added a religious atmosphere to the Easter and Thanksgiving assemblies and to the Christmas assembly at which time they combined with the other vocal music classes to present the annual "Night of Miracles" program.

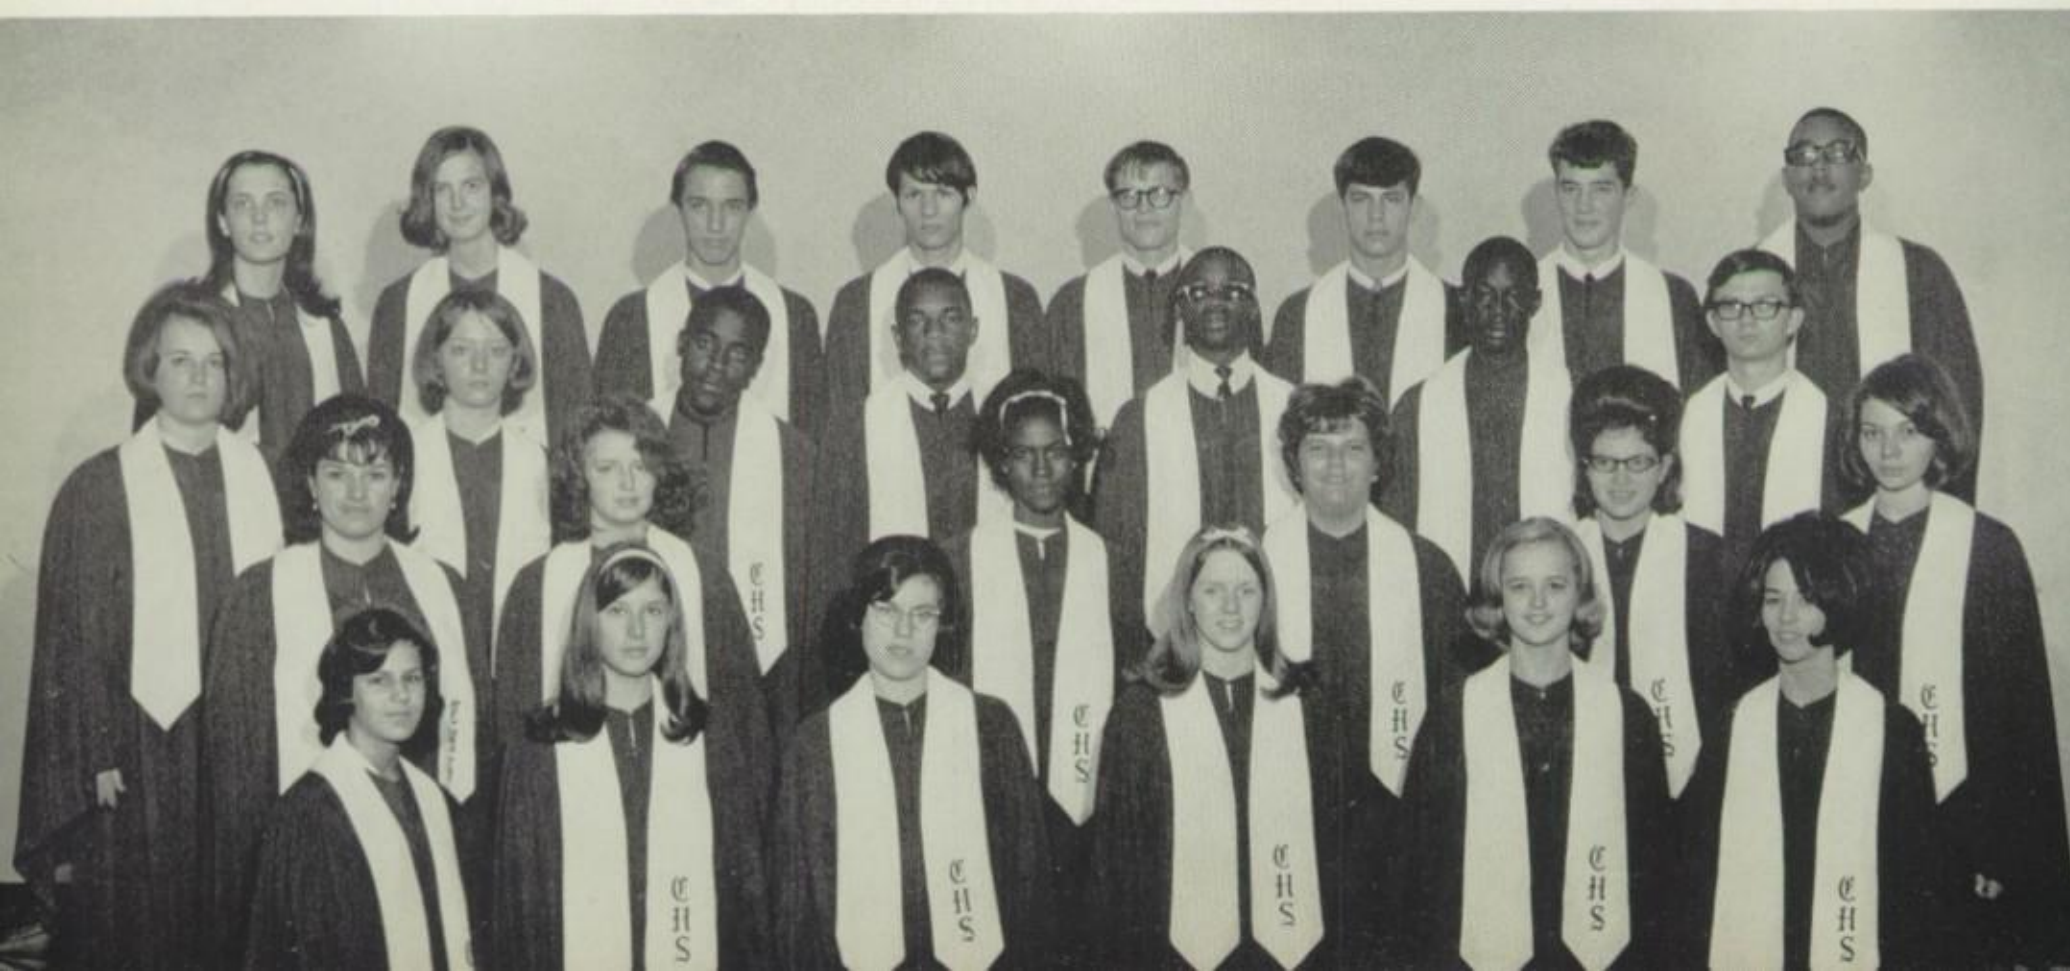

Several of the members participated in the all-city Messiah, held annually at Central, but the main event of the year was their program at the Harvest Festival in Stillwater. The Choir topped off its rewarding year by providing the music for Vesper Services in May.

The District and State vocal music contests took a good deal of the choir members' time this year and Central was proud to have several first place contest winners.

A Cappella's hard-working officers did an outstanding job this year of planning the choir's activities so that the organization had an enjoyable year of work and play.

Symphonic Band Earns Excellent Rating

After a five day band camp in August, the Symphonic Band, better known as "The Pride of Central," began the school year with fresh enthusiasm. As a result of their devotion, hard work, and the direction of Mr. Jerrold Lawless, they received an Excellent rating at the state marching contest held at Bartlesville.

During the year they marched in pre-game and half-time activities and also in various parades. Two of these were the O. U. Band Day at Norman and the Christmas parade in Tulsa.

The concert band, composed of juniors and seniors, played for four junior high schools. After participation in the District contest, the year was climaxed with a concert given by the whole instrumental music department.

Orchestra Contributes Classical Music

To help her improve her instrumental interpretation, Mr. Lawless gives Sandy Taylor a few helpful pointers.

With a full schedule this year, the zestful orchestra members participated in both local and state programs.

The stately Coronation Assembly was the first event scheduled for the group. At later dates they provided music for the annual Christmas Assembly and the Opera Club production, Carousel. Toward the end of the year members presented their assembly and gave a spring concert. To create interest in the Central Orchestra members toured junior high schools.

This year, six Orchestra students were chosen to play in the Messiah and to compete in various district and state contests. Serving as concertmistress was senior Katy Cox.

Band Members Seek Musical Perfection

If you had a class in the vicinity of room 105 fifth hour, chances are you heard the Varsity Band. They were hard at work preparing for the Music Department's concert in May. In March they received a chance to test their skill as a band at the district Music Conference at Okmulgee.

Many of the members of Varsity Band were in Marching Band and enthusiastically supported it by selling candy. John Geisinger led the class in candy sales and was one of the highest salesmen in the school.

This band is made up mostly of sophomores who will be the leading musicians next year. Carolyn Daniel represented the Varsity Band on the Central Music Council.

Board of Directors Regulates Finances

Once again this year, the speedy and efficient handling of Central High School's financial business was the task at hand for the Board of Directors. The Board met regularly to make quick work of the ponderous business affairs.

Composed of seven faculty members and four students, the Board, with Mr. Carl L. McCafferty at the helm, made its way through the mounting waves of purchase orders which continually poured into Central's bank this year.

Library Assistants Maintain References

Efficiency was the main goal sought by the library staff this year. Under the direction of Miss Helen Hagler, Central's student librarians learned the techniques of cataloging, shelving, and withdrawing books. These hard-working students were also required to keep all of the books and periodicals up-to-date and in top condition for effective reference work and enjoyable reading.

Beginning the year for the eight members of the Future Teachers of America was the annual dinner and ceremony for the installation of officers. The banquet was held at Bordens Cafeteria.

In March, the club sent delegates from the Central Chapter to attend the state convention of FTA'ers in Stillwater. At Christmas, they sent a basket of food to a needy family to round off the season of good cheer.

Their money-making project for the year consisted of the selling of Christmas candles in the forms of Santa Claus and a Nativity scene.

Homemakers Learn Tricks of Their Trade

Many colorful magazines, donated by the members, were sent to a resting home by the FHA as one of this year's projects. As a moneymaking project, they sold copies of cookbooks on various topics.

The club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jessie Diffie, kept the year alive with many exciting and informative topics ranging from charm and personality to citizenship. A guest speaker from the Service Center spoke on "Good Communication Through Family Relations." Delegates were sent to the State Convention in Oklahoma City in April, rounding off a very action packed and fun-filled year for these future homemakers.

To promote business interest among students and to create a knowledge and understanding in the choice of business occupations were the aims of the Future Business Leaders of America. Honoring representatives from Merle Norman Cosmetics, Career Specialists, and Charm, Inc., were among the activities of the monthly meetings. The members took tours of downtown Tulsa businesses, including DX, First National Bank, and IBM. Through these monthly projects, the new sponsors, Mrs. Wilda Goode and Mrs. Freda Belle, encouraged young people in the field of business.

Attending an Employer's Banquet, appearing on television programs, and going on various field trips were only a few of the activities the D.E.C.A. members participated in this year.

Going to school in the mornings and working in the afternoons, the Distributive Education students were able to put into practice at their jobs the skills which they acquired in class. Mrs. Loucillah Kirkpatrick, sponsor, taught the conscientious students the fundamentals of marketing and distribution, which included sales promotion, display, salesmanship, and advertising. These skills prepared the students for various types of work in retail, wholesale, or service firms.

Advertising Board Publicizes Events

Publicizing the many activities at Central, the Advertising Board was kept extremely busy this year. With a new sponsor, Mr. James Morton, the members met on alternate Tuesday mornings to plan various projects.

The members of the Advertising Board spent hundreds of hours working on elaborate posters to advertise various sports events, class plays, and numerous other school productions. Besides these important duties the members were in charge of the ticket sales for the Speech Arts Play, Nine Coaches Waiting, and the Musical Carousel, the Opera Club production.

These energetic Advertising Board members are busily making posters for an upcoming school production.

Building the scenery used for plays, assemblies and various shows, were a few duties of the members of stagecraft. The club also operated the lights, sound effects, and curtains during these productions of the year.

Under the guidance of Mr. Albert Martin, the crew used backdrops made of sheets of unbleached muslin for spectacular scenery for Daze Ablaze.

Key Club Hosts District Convention

Taking tickets at Central's productions and co-sponsoring the Student Council Leadership Conference were the main activities of this year's Key Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Leon Luce. To supply needed funds, the boys played KAKC disc jockeys in a basketball game and also conducted a rummage sale.

The club was given the responsibility of registration for the Oklahoma-Texas district convention which was held in Tulsa during April. They arranged temporary living quarters for some 2,500 Key Club members who lived throughout the Oklahoma and Texas area.

Tom Tom Staff Climbs to New Heights

Headaches, minor indifferences between staff members and their sponsor, and general confusion were experienced by the staff while putting So Many Good Things Inside the 1967 Tom Tom. In an effort to get spectacular pictures, the energetic crew found themselves standing on bookshelves, climbing on rooftops, and being rescued by the lake patrol. Despite many frustrations, the tireless team literally worked day and night to get the book in on time.

While continuing the practices of their predecessors, this year's staff added new prestige to their position when they became the Tom Tom Terrifics. With their beloved mascot, Mighty Manfred, they succeeded in surpassing the rival homerooms in ticket sales and other contests. With the completion of the yearbook the staff found themselves a unified and dedicated group.

Our photographers often found themselves being confused. The one on the ladder is Charlie. Or is that George?

Learning procedures of yearbook editing, each member of the journalism classes modeled an entire section of a yearbook, under the direction of Mr. Jack Orme. The students were responsible for a unique theme with a cover design and pictures relating to the theme. A competitive spirit was aroused as the members making up one of the largest journalism classes ever, vied for positions on the 1968 Tom Tom Tom staff. The year ended with a trip to T.U. Press Day where various discussion groups were attended.

Staff Endures Demanding Deadlines

Working often before and after school to meet weekly deadlines, the nine members of the School Life staff found newspaper writing a grueling, although rewarding, pursuit.

To gain better understanding of the fundamentals of the newspaper industry, the staff visited the print shop at the Education Service Center and attended O.U. and T.U. press days.

Eddie Bromiley was elected business manager at the beginning of the school year, and in December Beckey Butler was elected as the staff editor.

Sparkling Majorettes Thrill Crowds

Through rain, sleet or snow Central's twirlers arrived faithfully at school to practice with the band. Under the direction of Regina Baker were senior, Carolyn Daniels; junior, Pam Collier and sophomore, Margaret Collier. The majorettes showed their community spirit by leading the Central band in the Fair Parade, Veterans' Day Parade and the Christmas Parade.

For the second year, the girls performed in their new uniforms for the school at football games, Red Feather pep rallies and the general assembly during Spirit Week. Two of the girls combined their abilities and executed a skillful knife twirling act in Central's annual Daze.

Sponsored by Mr. Albert Martin, the group created original routines consisting of high-stepping march structures, complex whirling patterns with fire batons and twirling machetes. Each routine required a special touch and technique which earned for these girls the title of Central Majorettes.

Cheerleaders Elevate School Spirit

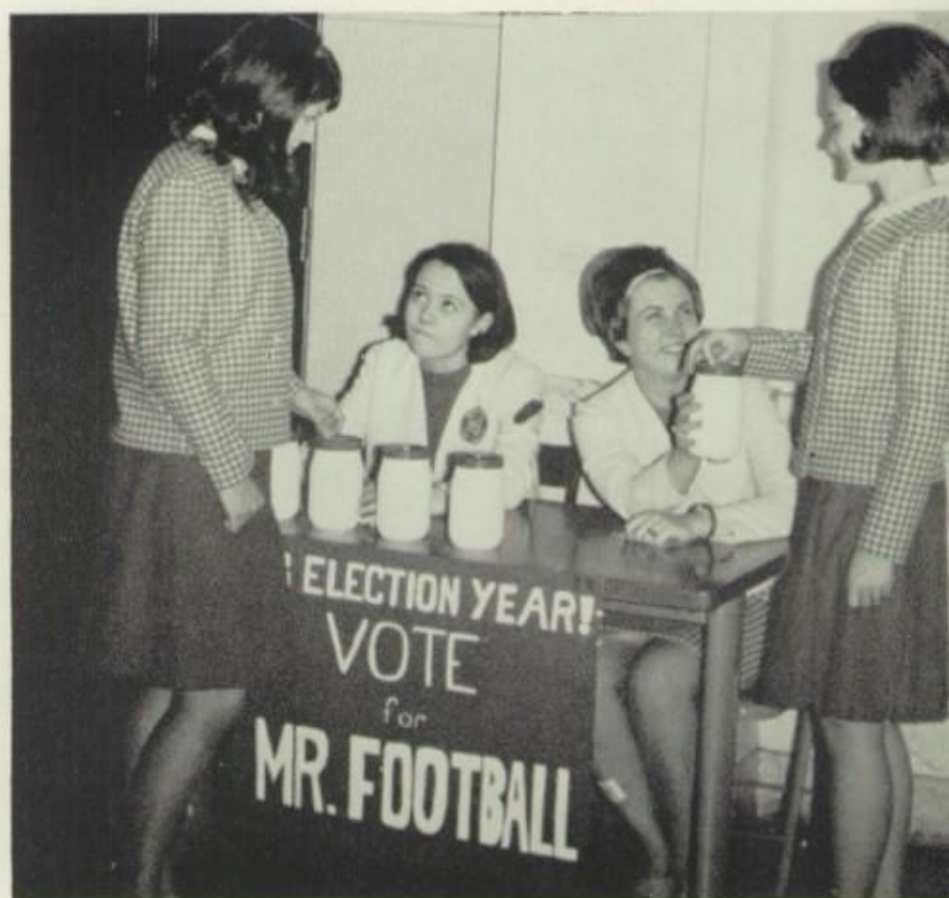

"S-P-I-R-I-T!" This was the word best describing the attitude of the student body this year, as the six A-squad cheerleaders led the Braves at every sports event. This team of girls with vitality-plus returned from the O.U. Clinic this summer holding five 1st place ribbons and a $50 scholarship.

B-squad cheerleaders were added to Central's yell team. A-squad head cheerleader, Becky Butler, describes the B-squad as, "really wonderful. They're a great help because now the A-squad doesn't have to split up when there are two or more sports events in one evening."

Both A and B-squad cheerleaders put in many hours working up new pompom routines and cheers that gave that extra touch of interest and sparkle to the school year, and boosted the spirit of the C.H.S. student body.

Among the activities of Red Feathers was the election and coronation of Mr. Football III. From the five candidates Jim Green was chosen. He was presented a crown, scroll, and necklace in Red Feather Assembly.

Red Feathers-Sporting Bright New

For Central's largest organization, 1967 was a year of many innovations. Most evident were the new uniforms seen throughout the halls on game days and at all sporting events. The various red and white checked blazer and skirt combinations for officers, squadleaders and members brightened itiated. The 1967 cabinet had the distinction of sponsoring the first economically successful Coronation Ball in honor of Miss Central XLVI.

Superlative Squads Win Recognition

Neither wind, rain, sleet, nor snow could keep Sharon Butler's second-place squad from decorating for Homecoming.

Inviting students to "come on in," Carol Robinson's hard working squad shows the spirit that won them third-place.

Desire and Ability Propel Athletes

Athletes relax and enjoy the annual Lettermen's picnic.

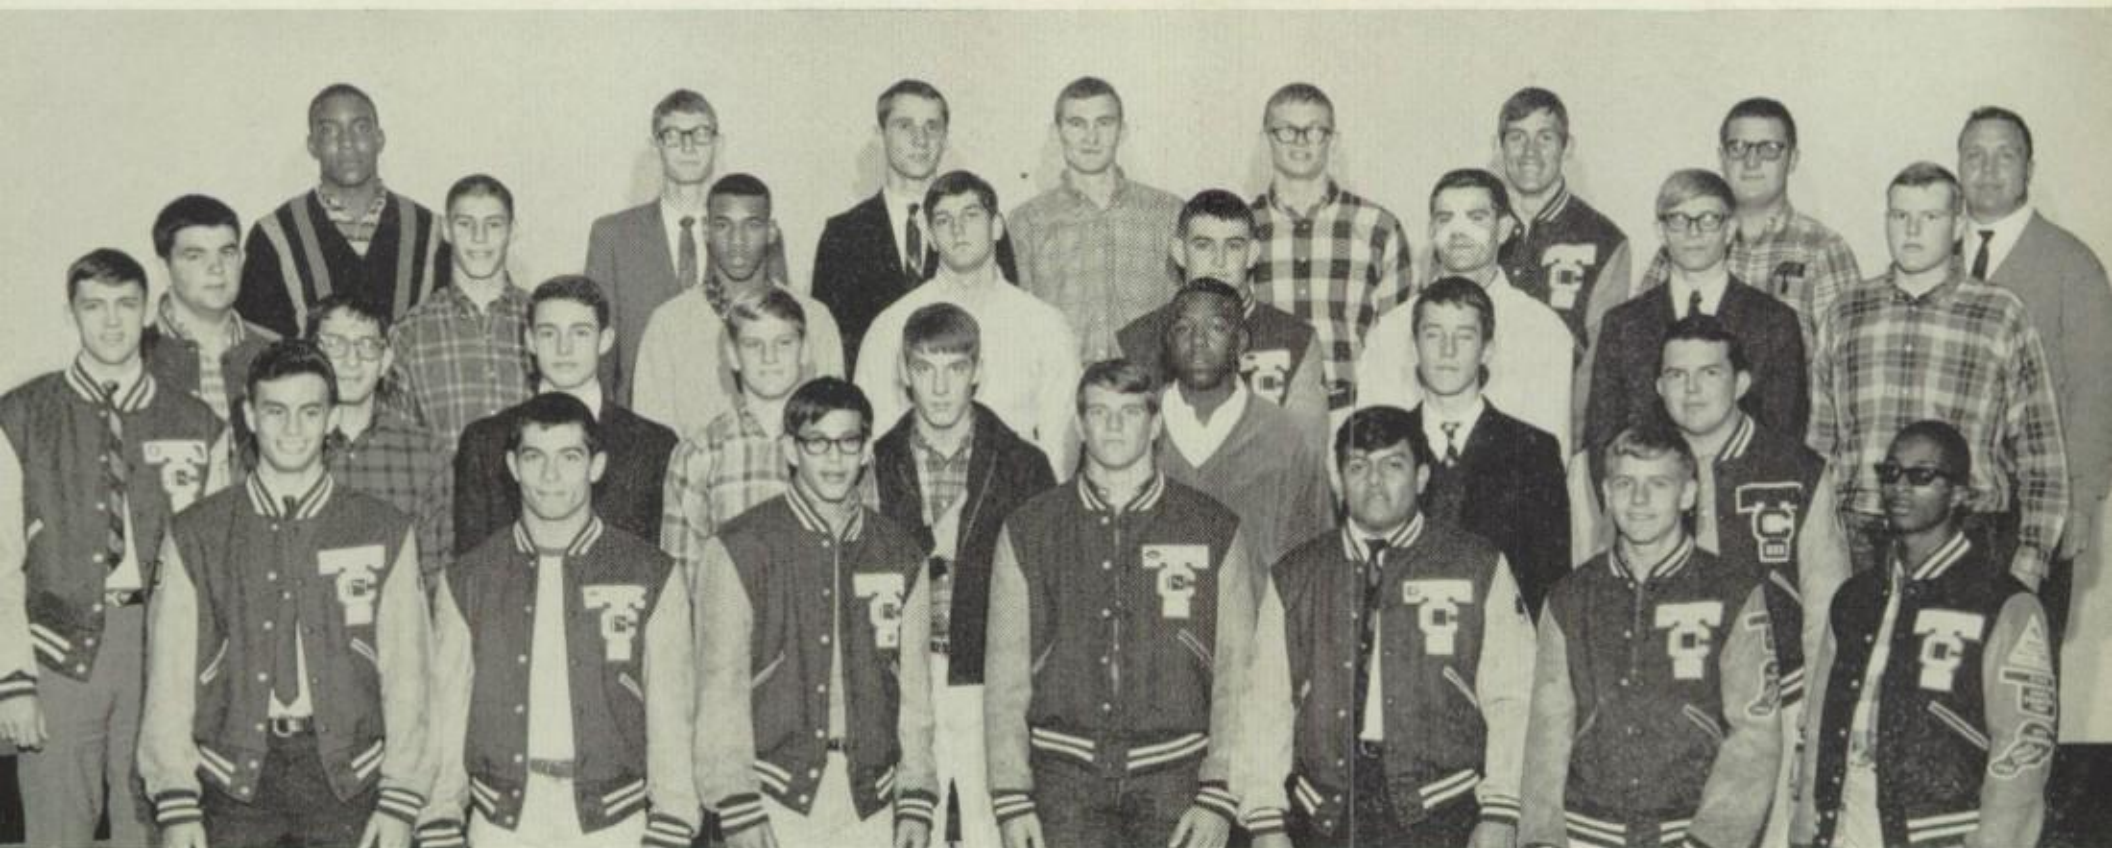

As the aroma of popcorn filled the gymnasium at each basketball game, Central's Lettermen's Club provided their vending services. To be a member a boy had to prove his skill and sportsmanship in athletics, possess qualities of commendable citizenship, and convey school loyalty.

With Coach Dick Guinn as sponsor, the club met on Tuesday nights to plan their busy year. Activities ranged from a dance in the gym to a hayride on a cold winter night. They also sponsored a Lettermen's Picnic at Mohawk Park in December.

Proceeds from popcorn sales helped sponsor the All Sports Banquet held in May to honor the outstanding varsity athletes in all nine sports.

New Sponsor Revives Girls Swim Club

"Get those ballet legs straight," echoed again and again through the girls' pool on Thursday afternoons as Mrs. Cynthia Bender reactivated the girls' swim club.

Having chosen "The Land of a Thousand Dances" as the theme for the 1967 water review, the work began for the Synchronette members. This work included planning routines, learning these routines on land, and finally perfecting them in the water during weekly practices. The final product of all the work was presented at the McLain pool May 11 and 12. It included flappers, Indian dancers, African natives, strip teasers and harem girls, each depicting a different phase of dance.

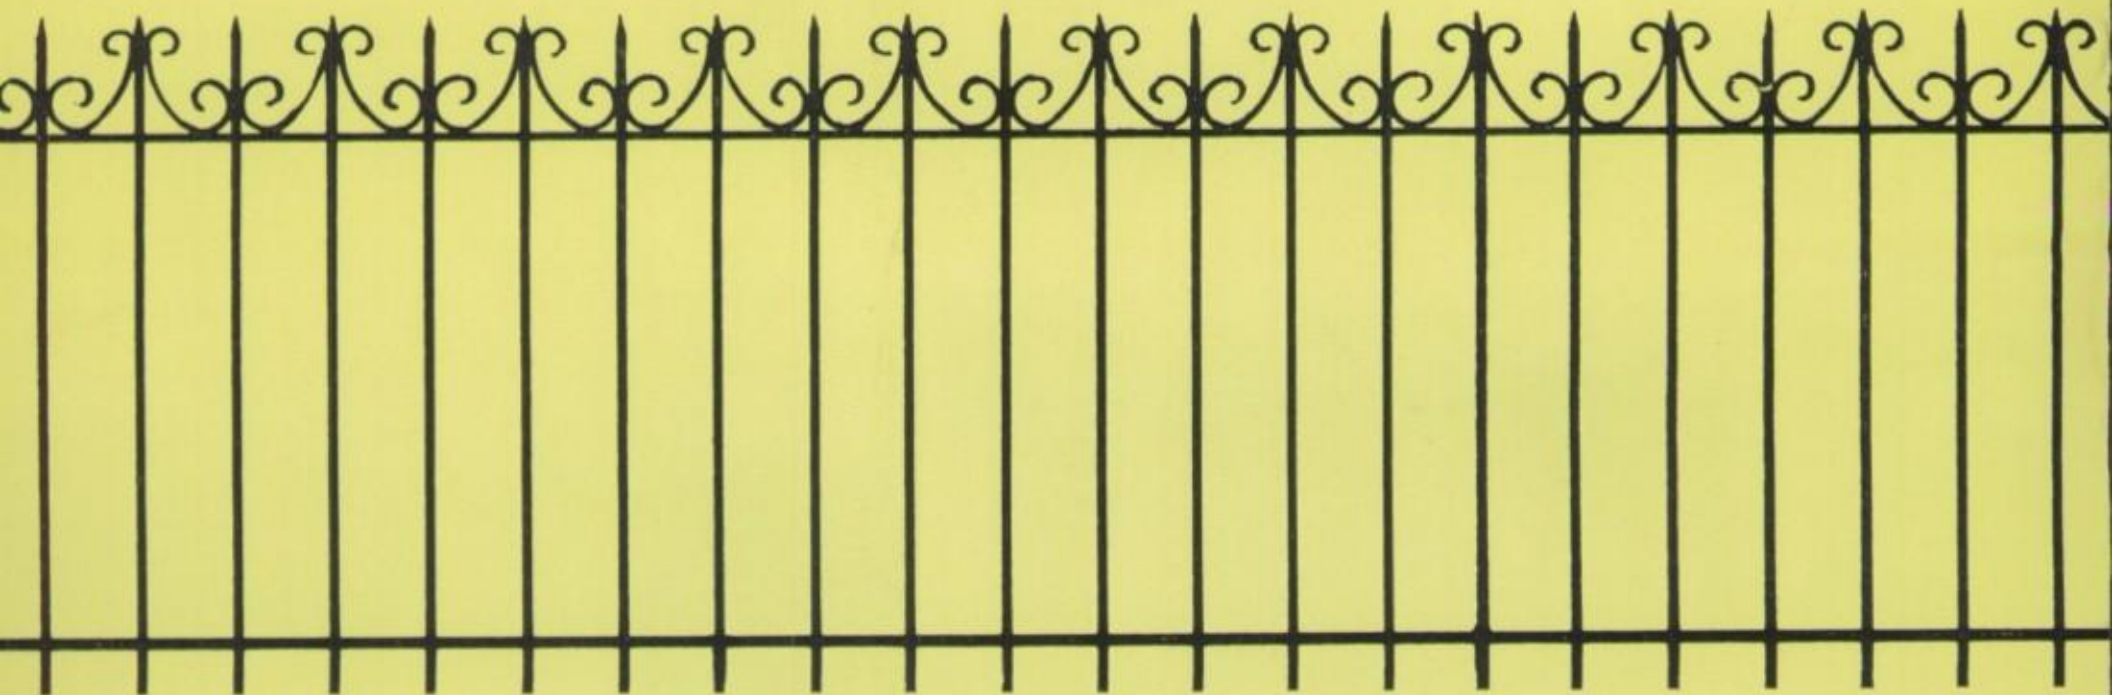

Working on the script for the upcoming show are club officers, sponsor, and the show's narrator, Pat Teague.

Representatives from each of the numbers pose in their Flapper, Aztec Indian, Striptease, Minuet, and Soft Shoe costumes.

Wearing straw hats and canes Synchronettes dance to "Sandpaper Rag" as they depict the soft shoe phase of dance.

In search of a way to make the weekend swing, this tizzy group enjoys the fair.

Queen Sandra

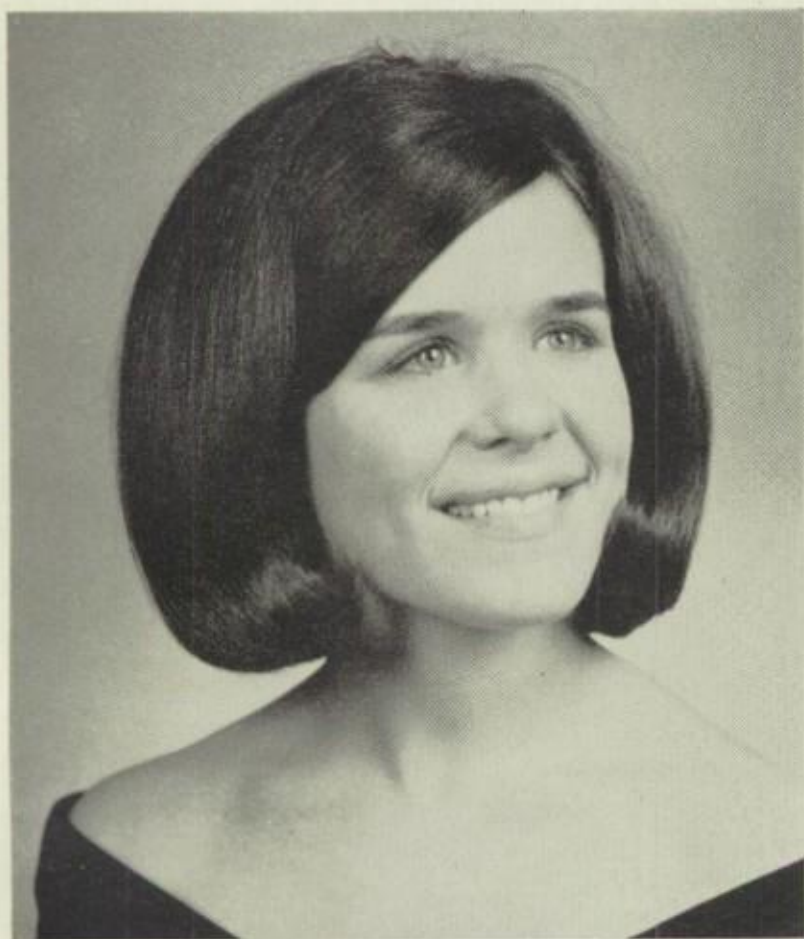

Pledging to uphold the high ideals for which she was chosen, Sandy Needham began her reign of loyalty and leadership as Miss Central High XLVI. Sharing her time and talents with others, Sandy served Central as Girls' State delegate, president of Modern Dance Club, senior cheerleader, and member of the National Honor Society.

In the tradition of years past, Steve Miller, Student Council president, was Lord High Chancellor, while senior class president Mike Nemec acted as General Petitioner. Her majesty was attended by sophomores Vicki Johnston, Debbie Tye, Debbie East; juniors Julia Moore, Sandy Thresher, Marcia Inbody; and seniors Nancy Baker and Janet Owens.

Top Centralites Capture High Honors

Central students received much recognition for their achievements in various fields. Medals, certificates, and scholarships were awarded to them for their efforts.

The 1966 Tom Tom was honored by being rated All-American by the National Scholastic Press Association and the Columbia Press Association. The Betty Crocker award for the Future Homemaker of Tomorrow was presented to Kathleen Page. Superior talent in athletics was demonstrated as members of the football, basketball, and wrestling squads were placed on the All-City teams. Several Centralites participated in the trip to Holland taken by the Young Tulsans. Members of the student body represented the school throughout the year at vocal and instrumental music contests. Science and English awards also were given to hard-working students for their numerous projects and essays.

Under the supervision of Coach Bridges, Wrestlers of the Week, Mike Wahl and Ken Damron, practice a special hold.

Three talented girls display the awards they won in the fields of science, homemaking and baton twirling.

Central's representatives to Boys' and Girls' State are Mike Nemec, Sandra Needham, April Koch, and Bob Garrett.

King Daze XLI

With pomp and ceremony, Steve Miller was crowned King Daze the XLI, beginning a four night reign over DAZE ABLAZE, and a life-long task of being Central's representative. King Steve was elected by the student body because of his outstanding qualities and service to his school and community projects.

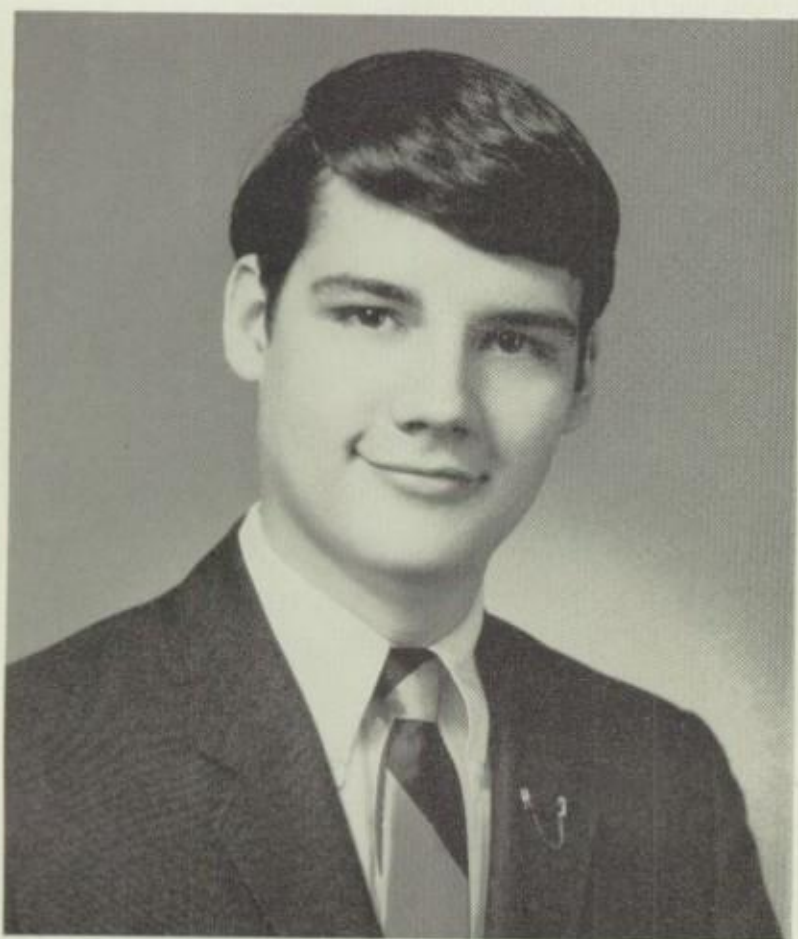

Senior attendants to the king were Doug Dodd and Mike Nemec. Arthur Campbell, Doug Oakes, and Bob Speaker served as junior attendants. John Bowman, Bruce Gaither, and Doug Garcia were chosen as sophomore attendants. All were selected by their respective class members.

In the impressive opening ceremony before each night of the four performances, the court reconvened to majestically begin the show.

Stage Sparkles with Central Talent

In a "Blaze of Glory," senior Pat Teague provides a serious moment to the pride-filled patriotic block of Daze Ablaze as he sounds out an inspiring trumpet solo.

Caught in a festive mood, this carefree maid and butler, Vivian Strobel and Ricky Roach, dance to a lively tune as they invite us to "Come to the Cabaret."

Singing a not-so-simple medley, the Hi-Lites get together for some good old-fashioned harmony, carnival style.

In her vocal solo, Cindy Harris leaves the audience spell-bound with her rendition of "You're Gonna Hear From Me."

Drumming out a soulful rhythm, Alan Nicholson and Dale Ross synchronize their beats in the duet entitled "DA."

Exhibiting their famous dance and kick routine, the Dazettes bring another performance to a spectacular finish.

Adding a classical touch, Karen Hassler and Montie Smith combine talents in their blazing duet, "Ritual Fire Rites."

DAZE Erupts in a Blaze of Splendor

Show girls, folk singers, instrumentalists, all passed in review across Central's stage in the forty-first annual DAZE. This year's theme was DAZE ABLAZE and aptly named so. Headed by director Albert Martin and DAZE Board officers Bob Garrett, Glenda Spencer, and Bette Allsopp, the '67 DAZE was ablaze with talent, laughter, color, and excitement.

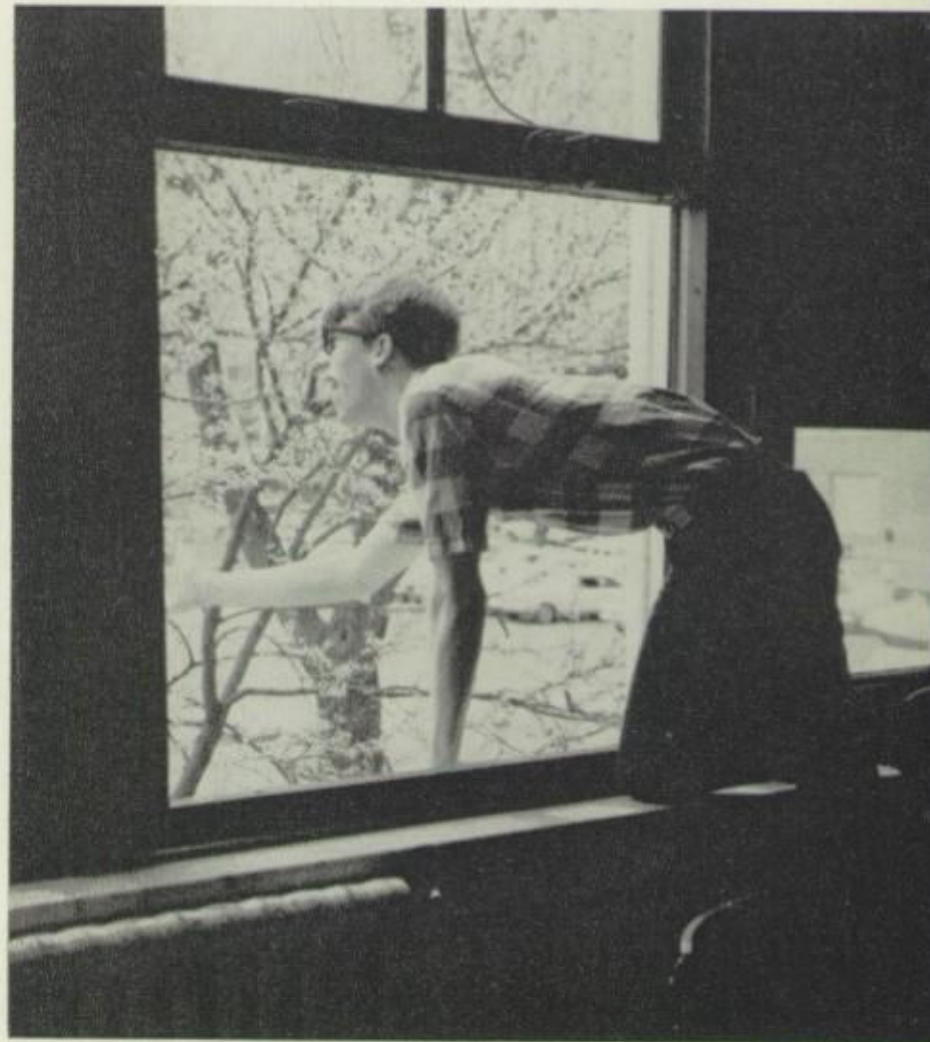

After the traditional crowning of King Daze the show began with a glowing sun blazing in the sky. A sparkling tour of the world brought us to a magnificent concert hall and then to the thrills and laughter of a colorful circus parade. The audience was then taken to a speakeasy which was transformed suddenly to a swinging nightclub, highlighted by the DAZE Band. Ending on a patriotic note, DAZE ABLAZE was climaxed by the beautiful and talented Dazettes.

"Oh, look at her! Ain't she pretty!" sings this member of the unique all-boy chorus line.

Shimmering Spring Brings Final Fling

Spring brought early sunburns to many Centralites and hay fever to others. When class rings were distributed, seniors realized it was all over, but juniors realized it was just beginning. Sophomores looked forward to being no longer the low men on the totem pole. The thought of a three month vacation brought exhilaration to students and faculty alike. Seniors awaited anxiously for news of college acceptance and summer jobs.

The final week of school brought mixed emotions to seniors. Many tears were shed at the farewell assembly and the unveiling of the numerals, but they couldn't help anticipating the many good things to come. Graduation at the Civic Center on May 30 was the climax of the week as the members of the class of 1967 proudly received their well-earned diplomas.

Spring fever makes restless Bob Reid venture from his studies to catch a glimpse of the beautiful out-of-doors.

Easter bunny helpers, Gary, Mary, and Randy present a young friend with an Easter surprise.
